

County budget squeeze

Cutbacks could be severe

Eighty or more Madison County employees could lose their jobs Jan. 1 if a tentative county budget posted Tuesday is upheld by the Madison County Board Nov. 24.

The tentative budget calls for cuts to departments of $460,000 in salaries, not including eight to 10 departments under the control of the courts or directly under the county board's control.

Most county officials are viewing the cuts as extreme and contend the numbers of persons which would have to be cut from their offices would greatly reduce the services the county would be able to offer the taxpayers.

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles estimated she could have to dismiss 12 of her 23 employees if she was to stay within the budget, cutting her staff in half and making the routine tasks of her office nearly impossible to perform.

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron would have to dismiss two of his 24 employees (including part-time and manpower) while still attempting to contend with the loss of six other employees earlier in this fiscal year.

"I just don't know how I am going to cut out two more employees and make my office work. We are going to have to work a lot harder to maintain the quality of service we have been providing," Byron said.

About 14 employees will have to be cut from the office staff, Circuit Clerk Willard V.

"Butch" Portell to stay within the proposed budget, Portell said his staff of 58 already is undermanned for the duties they have, and noted the staff is expected to generate $350,000 more in fines next year for the county than it did this year. He said he felt that $350,000 should be earmarked for his office, due to the extra services they will have to provide.

Byron also noted his office generates more in fines than it costs to operate and he is handling twice the caseload as his predecessor without increasing the staff.

County Treasurer George Musso would be required to lay-

Ebersoldt will seek re-election

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice announced Tuesday night that he will be a candidate for re-election in the 1977 city elections next April.

Mayor Ebersoldt was elected mayor in a special election April 16, 1974, to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. John E. Lee who died Nov. 30, 1973.

"During the past three years I have tried to help every citizen in Venice to the best of my ability and I have considered it an honor to serve the people as mayor of our city," Ebersoldt said. He announced his candididacy following a regular meeting of the Venice City Council.

"I seek re-election to a full term, as there are many projects such as the underpass and Federal Air Route 151 that I would like to keep working on until they are completed," he said.

"My record and actions always have been aimed at helping the people and the city of Venice, and I am going to run on this record. During these past three years I have been

Education Week events

Public schools in the Quad-City area will observe American Education Week with a series of special programs, school visitations, open house schedules and classroom tours throughout next week, it was announced Wednesday.

American Education Week, which has been observed annually throughout the nation since 1921, will be held Nov. 14 through Nov. 19. The observance is sponsored by the National Education Association, American League, National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the U.S. Office of Education to encourage local citizen support and active participation in the improvement of education.

All schools in the Granite City, Venice and Madison School Districts plan programs at various times during the week, most of them open house programs in which parents will visit classrooms and tour school facilities.

Granite City High School North will conduct an open house program on Wednesday, Nov. 17 from 7 until 9 p.m. A general meeting of welcome is scheduled at 7 p.m., followed by visits to school classrooms.

South High School plans an all-day program on Thursday, Nov. 18, with sessions during the morning and in the afternoon. Registration will be held in the main hall from 10:15 to 10:30 a.m. for the morning session, and from 12:45 to 1 p.m. for the afternoon sessions.

Auditorium programs also are scheduled from 10:30 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 1:30 p.m. The welcome will be delivered by Principal James Dumont and Counselor Sonya Anderson will speak on the subject "Parents and Teachers — Partners in Education."

The Parent Handbook and the student newspaper, High World, will be distributed during both sessions and parent opinion surveys, which had been mailed

3-year pact

A strike at Earl's Discount Store, Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard, and a related lockout of clerks at 14 other downtown Granite City stores was settled Tuesday morning as members of Retail Clerks Local 435 agreed to a new three-year contract with all 15 stores.

A proposal from the downtown merchants was submitted to the union during the weekend and was finalized Monday afternoon. The clerks ratified the agreement, "overwhelmingly," Tuesday morning, according to Local 435 President Charles Tsch.

The agreement calls for clerks to receive 15 cents more per hour immediately; another 10 cents per hour in the second year, and 15 cents additional in the third year.

Most clerks have already returned to their jobs and all are expected to be back to work by tomorrow.

Lunch will be served in the cafeteria from 11:30 a.m. to noon for the morning visitors and from 12:15 to 12:45 p.m. for the afternoon group.

The labor disagreement began Oct. 27 when the clerks struck Earl's. Under a 15-store bargaining pact, the other 14 locked out union employees. Pickets were established at the various stores.

The pickets were removed Tuesday morning. A notification of a 10 a.m. meeting to ratify a proposed contract. The new pact is retroactive to Oct. 1, when the former contract expired.

A spokesman for the merchants said they are glad the strike and lockout have been settled, noting, "We want downtown Granite City to be alive" with activity.

He said clerks in downtown Granite City now will be paid more than in any nearby area, including Collinsville, Edwardsville, Belleville and Cahokia.

Clerks with three years of experience will make $3.24 per hour under the new agreement.

"Lady Blue Jeans, don't forget to turn in our scores tonight," may have been part of a conversation heard over a citizen band radio in Granite City.

Lady Blue Jeans is a "handle" adopted by Granite Cityan Ann DeWitt as a member of the Flipper Tails CB Club which competes every Monday evening in bowling league play at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl, 3701 Nameoki Road.

Comprised of 30 members, who conceal their usual identities at the bowling lanes by reporting scores under their club nicknames, the league opened its 1976 season Monday evening.

Plans to demolish the Long Lake Fire Department's recreation hall on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach and to replace it with a building to expand the fire hall are being studied by the fire department.

A special meeting of the Long Lake Fire Protection District, the taxing agency which supports the fire department, has been called for 2:30 p.m. today to discuss possible ways of aiding the costs of construction.

Presently, the fire department has earmarked $23,000 from a community development grant toward the project and is hoping for an additional $8,000 to $10,000 from the fire protection district.

The fire protection district has been in light financial straits since it failed to file a tax levy two years ago and did not receive any tax money in the 1974-75 fiscal year.

The fire department, a private corporation, operates with funds raised through many activities, plus funds from an annual contract with the protection district.

An $80,000 contract this fiscal year (1976-77) had been requested by the firemen, but the fire protection district trustees have indicated they have only about $50,000 available and could not increase the contract without borrowing.

They can not increase taxes, because they already are at the legal limit, it was explained by Harold Davis, president of the board of trustees.

Davis said the district this fiscal year repaid the last of the debt from when the district received no tax revenue, and a portion of last year's contract with the firemen had to be paid from this year's budget, since insufficient funds were available last year.

Davis said he supports the fire department's efforts to demolish the recreation hall, "which is full of termites," and to replace it with additional fire hall garage space, since garage space has been insufficient since the district acquired a new rescue truck.

Fire Chief C. Arnold Rutherford said plans for the work are very tentative, but are under study. He said a four-bay firehouse facility is planned which would be connected with the existing fire hall by an enclosed hallway.

There are no plans, at this time, to build a new recreation hall in the village.

BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Mary E. Boker whose engagement to Jackie D. Mitchell is being announced by her parents, Mrs. Geneva Boker, 3004 Dale Ave. and Roy Boker, 2613 rear Grand Ave. An August wedding is planned.

Mary E. Boker is betrothed

Mrs. Piper is circle hostess

The engagement of Miss Mary E. Boker and Jackie D. Mitchell, is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mrs. Geneva Boker, 3004 Dale Ave. and Roy Boker, 2613 rear Grand Ave.

Parents of the prospective groom are Mrs. Jessie Mitchell, 2718 East 24th St. and the late Orville Jack Mitchell.

Miss Boker is attending Granite City High School South and is employed at Medicare Pharmacy.

Her fiancé was graduated from South High School and is presently working at American Steel Foundries.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a wedding in August.

Truth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met last week at the home of Mrs. Mable Gerlich, with Mrs. Mary Piper serving as hostess.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Betty Williams from Guidepost titled, "The Tunnel" by Richard Schneider.

Plans were made to attend the general meeting of the United Methodist Women to be held in Wesley Hall with The Looking Glass Players from Mount Vernon, Ill., presenting the program. Much discussion was devoted to finalizing plans for the annual Holiday Bazaar to be held Nov. 19, with luncheon being served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and dinner from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The evening was spent by members creating items for sale at the bazaar. Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames Mary Rouland, Wanda Groothuis, Shirley Lane, Kathryn Richardson, Mable Gertsch, Betty Williams, Elizabeth Briggs, Edna Stith and Eula Davis.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Stith.

able to make many friends for the city of Venice in the county, state and federal governments.

"We have a fine group of men on the City Council who have served the people of the city well. Working together with these men has been a pleasure."

"I will be able to devote full time to the office as I am retired and after Dec. 6 will no longer be serving on the levee board," Ebersoldt said.

Mayor Ebersoldt, a retired railroad switchman, held the city clerk's position in Venice from 1954 until his election as mayor.

He and his wife, Irene, live at 804 Third St., Venice. They have two sons, Neal and Jim, a daughter, Jean, and several grandchildren.

Mayor Ebersoldt is a member of the First Methodist Church of Venice, a 36-year member of Masonic Triple Lodge 835, and is a member of Odd Fellows Lodge 719.

He also has been active in many organizations including the Venice Crippled Children's Organization, Boy Scouts of America, Venice Homecoming and Memorial Association, Venice City Organization, Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission, Venice Social Club, Horseshoe Lake Rod and Gun Club, Terminal Railroad Compass Club and the Southwestern Conference of Mayors.

Henry Baucum, Venice City Treasurer, told the Press-

Record Tuesday night after the meeting that he will have an announcement concerning a candidate for mayor by next Tuesday.

Baucum is a former Venice alderman and was elected treasurer in April 1972. Political speculation indicates that Baucum is again "considering" the mayor's race, but he would make no comment Tuesday.

Armenian dance Saturday night

A public dance at 8:30 p.m. Saturday will be cosponsored by St. Gregory Illuminator Armenian Apostolic Church and the Granite City Bicentennial Commission.

The event, which will take place at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison, is the final activity to be arranged by the St. Gregory Church group to commemorate the Bicentennial Year, according to a planning committee spokesman.

Armenian foods will be served and a cash bar is planned.

Music for dancing will be furnished by the Hachig Kazarian Ensemble of Detroit, Mich.

Tickets will be available at the door Saturday night for a donation of $2.50 each.

House break-in Gene Casey, 3111 Wayne Ave., and his wife returned home at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday and it is believed they disturbed a prowler in the home.

Mrs. Casey recalled when they returned home, the front door was closed. The couple went to the back door and found it standing open. They then looked in the back door and noticed the front door had been opened while they were walking around the house.

Nothing is known missing. A neighbor recalled seeing a man in the driveway a short time before the Caseys returned home. He was described as about 6 feet tall, having a dark hat and a beige raincoat and carrying a briefcase.

The rear door knob of the Casey house appeared to have been forced with some kind of tool.

residents that three public hearings on proposed educational legislation are being held by the State Board of Education.

The purpose of the meetings (Nov. 12, Bloomington; Nov. 16, Benton; and Nov. 20, Chicago) is to solicit citizen comments and suggestions on educational issues in elementary and secondary education.

In commemorating American Education Week, Dr. Cronin urged all citizens to visit schools and actively support the improvement of their education system.

"Only through the active participation of all of us can we deal with the problems confronting education today," he commented.

HURT IN TRUCK CRASH
Gilbert Waelterman, 16, of 231 Holiday Mobile Home Park, was injured when his pickup truck struck the parked car of Rudy Koisher, 2419 Washington Ave., on Washington Avenue at Edwards Street Monday. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was x-rayed and admitted with bruises to his nose and the right side of his face and possible other head injuries.

STORAGE SHED BURNS
An old storage shed at Odell's Iron and Metal, 100 State St., Venice, was destroyed by fire Wednesday evening. Venice firemen were at the scene from 6:10 p.m. until 9:15 p.m. Cause of the fire is unknown. There was no estimate of damage.

Bubblemasters elect Lamm, Viessman 'Diver of Year'

Phil Lamm was elected president of the Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club of Granite City and Randy Viessman received the "Diver of the Year Award," the club's top honor, at the 17th annual awards banquet held during the weekend at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

Lamm succeeds Larry Earney as president. Elected to serve with the new president in 1977 were: Randy Viessman, vice-president; Ron Ruppel, treasurer-financial secretary; and Sharon Earney, recording secretary.

More than 120 divers and their guests attended the event. A smorgasbord dinner was served adjacent to the indoor swimming pool, and the evening was spent dancing to the music of "Blue Sunshine" of St. Louis. Lamm, who lives at 2721 Dale Ave., is a former vice-president of the Bubblemasters Club and served as safety and training officer in 1976. He is employed at Shell Oil Co., Wood River.

Lamm also holds the position of vice-president of the Midwest Diving Council, responsible for training and certification for the entire Midwest region. He has been an active club member for several years, has taught scuba diving courses here and in Belleville and excels in spearfishing competition.

Viessman was selected "Diver of the Year" by a blue-ribbon panel of previous winners and past presidents. The award is only bestowed upon an individual who has contributed the most outstanding effort to club projects and has promoted diving consistently. Earney explained in presenting the award, "Randy had helped on many occasions without being asked," the retiring officer told the gathering.

Viessman has been a member of the Bubblemasters' board of directors since June and serves as assistant armistice. He is self-employed as an independent carpenter-contractor. "Spearman of the Year" was Richard Grizzard, who had record catches on club dives and accumulated the most points for spearfishing through the summer season.

Edward Duffin received the second place award and Lamm was the recipient of the third place trophy. Trophies for the largest fish speared in contests each month were awarded to Kent Speers, May; Larry Earney, June; Richard Grizzard, July; Jerry Duffin, August; and Bill Hodshire, September.

Receiving the club's large traveling trophies for largest fish were Speers, Memorial Day dive, and Hodshire, Labor Day dive.

The "Novice Diver of the Year" award was presented to Brian Earney, a first-year club member, whose diving skills showed most improvement among the new divers. He also placed sixth in overall point standing for the spearman trophy, it was noted.

Seven members were awarded Midwest Diving Council patches for their "efforts and participation" in the national diving contest, taking place in April at Beaver Lake, Ark.

The patch winners were Dee Adams, Jerry Davis, Bob Burns, Larry Earney, Vance Weiss, Kent Speers and Randy Viessman.

Special guests at the awards banquet were Don Colson, president of the Midwest Diving

Turner allegedly struck a man in the face and pointed a .25 caliber pistol at him.

ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE to George Holtzsch's direction, foreground, is shown by the Sweet Adelines while rehearsing "There's No Business Like Show Business" in preparation for their 10th anniversary concert at 8 p.m. Saturday at Webster Junior High School, Collinsville. The Mississippi River Valley Chorus also will appear. Tickets at the door cost $3 each and $1 for senior residents. Children, 12 years and under, will be admitted free.

Prather receives namesake's award
A "Woman in History Award," recognizing the contributions of Miss Sophia Prather, a pioneer educator in Granite City, has been presented to Prather Junior High School for display in the building.
The award is one of seven bestowed earlier this year by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club to local women considered outstanding in their field of endeavor.

The program was part of the club's Bicentennial Year activities.
The other award recipients were Mrs. Bessie Morgan Reese, Dr. Felicia M. Koch, Mrs. Thelma Epstein, Sister Mary Thomas, Mrs. Bethel J. Davis and the late Margaret "Maggie" Moellenbrock.
A school teacher, who "dedicated her life to the youth of Granite City and anyone in need," Miss Prather established the Lincoln Place Community Center and personally convinced children and adults alike to volunteer their time and skills to help teach less fortunate, speaking many others and other new citizens many subjects of benefit in their new homeland.

Miss Prather organized citizenship and English classes, dressmaking and woodcraft, and arranged Sunday school and Bible classes and organized Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops. As director of the community center, she also created playgrounds for the children through her efforts, "developed children of the community into well educated, self-confident adults," it was learned.
Thousands of new immigrants arriving here to work in the steel mills availed themselves of the opportunities she offered, including the citizenship course Miss Prather taught. Most went on to become full-fledged citizens of America.
Miss Prather was born in 1896 in Carle, Ill., but lived here for most of her adult life. She died in 1936.

Cal Bartels, Prather JHS principal, accepted the award for the school district. The Prather building is named for the honoree.
Mrs. Dorothy Allen presented a Thanksgiving lesson on the topic, "To Whom Much is Given," taken from Good Morning Lord book at the monthly meeting of Loyalty Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, last week. She also read a poem by R. A. Emerson and closed with prayer.

The members met in the youth center of the church with Mrs. Mary Altherr and Mrs. Reba Wallace serving a dessert luncheon prior to the session.
Circle leader Mrs. Woodie Lynn led a discussion on the Nov. 19 church bazaar. She announced Loyalty and Faith Circles will co-host a "Mrs. Nicholas Corner" booth featuring many handmade Christmas decorations and gifts, and will open at 9 a.m. for the public and church members.
There were 18 sick calls made during the month, it was noted. Mrs. Lynn reported the United Methodist Women of the church will be in charge of the Meals on Wheels during Dec. 13 to Dec. 17.
Others present were Misses Mable Stewart and Kathryn Van Order, Mrs. Alice Cruse and Mrs. Garnet McGovern.

Bridget Fry feted on 13th birthday
Bridget Fry was honored for her 13th birthday this week at a party in her home, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Singler, 2645 East 23rd St.
The guests were entertained by Brian Ballard with a magic show.
Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners.
A "blue jean" theme was used for decorations.
Guests were, Lauri King, Ivette Mathes, Sherry Perryman, Midge Boner, Margie Ballard, Brian Ballard, Rhonda Starks, grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Martin Brewer, Jody Singler, Kelly Singler, Ada Singler, Virgil Singler and the honoree's brother Richard Fry.

Famous Comic Strip Characters theme for GCHS North Follies

A cast of 250 freshmen and sophomore students of Granite City High School North, the speech department will present "Famous Comic Strip Characters" in their annual Follies on Friday, Nov. 19, in the South auditorium.

Curtain time will be at 8 p.m. with no reserved seating.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and $1 for students, and are being sold by the North Oral Communication students or can be purchased at the main office at North. Student activity tickets cannot be used for this program.

Skits will include: "Marmaduke's Poking Party," "Ponytail's Party," "Dennis the Menace Babysitting Woes," "Peanuts at Patty's Thanksgiving Party," "Family Circus," "Bugs Bunny," "Tiger," and "Superman."

The program is continuous and each original skit is introduced by an original entrance.

Advanced speech students work as stage crews and handle all technical aspects of the program.

The "Follies" is a three-week drama unit in an oral communication course. It is designed to initiate students to all aspects of theater production of original skits, including script writing, acting, scenery construction and painting, costuming, make-up, sound, lighting and theater management.

Students are from the classes of Dr. Goni Michaeloff, F. Gordon Mueller and Wayne A. Hubbard.

The production will be video taped by audio-visual students of Ralph Mangan and the tapes then used in classrooms for study and evaluation.

In the skit "Marmaduke's Poking Party," after an argument with his master, Marmaduke leaves home and spends a wild evening playing poker with his animal friends. In the entrance "Pixie and Dixie" two mice, tell everyone about the time that Marmaduke left home.

"Ponytail's Party" is interrupted by several different people, including the police and the entrance "Bonehead's Blunder," concerns Bonehead thinking he is going to be invited to Ponytail's slumber party, so he dresses accordingly.

"Dennis the Menace" creates hilarious problems for his

THE PINK PANTHER in the "Case of the Missing Jewels" will be one of the skits presented in the Granite City High School North Follies at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 19, in the South auditorium. From left, standing, are: Brian Johnson, Rick Lear, Connie Lee, Shelle Hartzel, Al Dowdy, Cindy Chrobak, Donna Bauer, Allen Kirgan, babysitters, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, when he decides to invite a few friends over for the evening. This is introduced by "Nancy and Sluggo" who tell about the hysterical afternoon when the Wilson's baby sat with Dennis.

From the Peanuts cartoon, Patty's plans for a Thanksgiving party go awry when no one wants to kill the main entrée for the dinner, the turkey. In the opening Snoopy, Woodstock and Linus discuss plans for the Thanksgiving party.

The Pink Panther, master sleuth, is hot on the trail of the missing Jewels as he matches wits with leaders of the underworld at a winter resort. The Ant and the Aardvark have the missing Jewels and lead a merry chase.

The Family Circus skit concerns Dolly's first birthday party as super friends are going to the movies on their day off.

The football players want to burn the coach in effigy, but "Chip and Dale" want Bugs Bunny to manage the football team.

Tiger and Hugo try to get the other kids to come to the football game as Heckyl and Jeckyl make fun of Tiger and his gang.

"Superman" foils the bank robbers and saves the day as Raggedy Ann has a crush on Superman and Andy is jealous.

The "Follies," according to Dr. Michaeloff, is an evening of enjoyment for the entire family. Tickets should be bought well in advance to avoid disappointment, she said.

BURGLARY ON BRYAN

About $75 in coins and bills were stolen during a burglary at the home of Carolyn Hornbeck, 2003 Bryan Ave., last week. The front door was broken open and a safety bolt was torn off the door.

Talks on purchasing

Jim Stevenson, assistant purchasing agent for the Illinois Department of General Services, will be keynote speaker for the Mississippi Valley Association of School Business Officials meeting Nov. 17 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

MIVASBO is a regional association of school business officials. It serves Illinois Office of Education Region Five a 13-county area.

Raymond L. Lows, chairman of the Department of Educational Administration and Supervision at SIUE and program coordinator for MIVASBO, said the general topic of the meeting is purchasing. Stevenson will describe the "state purchasing plan" and distribute informational materials.

The meeting will include a panel presentation on "Cooperative Purchasing" by Lewis Hauser, assistant superintendent of Bethalto Schools, James Harris, administrative assistant of Wood River High School, and Bob Kinsack, business manager for Roxana schools.

Mrs. Martin, 40, dies here

Mrs. Shirley Martin, 40, of 2820 Dale Ave., a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 6:30 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient one week.

She was a self-employed beautician and maintained her beauty shop in her home for two years.

Mrs. Martin was a member of the United Pentecostal Church. Survivors include her husband, Thomas Martin; one son, Michael D. Krauskopf; a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Carla) Thomas; her mother, Mrs.

Danie Wilson; five brothers, Herman, Leonard, Lloyd, Jerry and David Wilson; three sisters, Mrs. Harold (Roberta) Cey, Mrs. Adolph (Pearl) Keck and Mrs. Clarence (Virginia) Hirtz and two grandchildren, all of Granite City.

Services were held Wednesday morning. Details are given in the obituary column.

GC South, Quigley favored in state soccer tourney

The only certainty about the fifth annual Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' state final soccer tournament, scheduled this weekend at Maine East High School in Park Ridge, is that for the fifth straight year there will be a new champion.

On paper, Chicago (Quigley South) and Granite City (South) appear headed for a championship match showdown.

But tournament-seasoned Wheaton (Central) and Highland Park are strong challengers to take over the throne vacated by Hinsdale (Central), which fell by the wayside early in sectional competition.

Four quarterfinal matches are scheduled for Friday, beginning at noon. Semifinals will be played Saturday, starting at 9:30 a.m., and the title match will be under the lights at 7:30 p.m.

Tournament pairings and time schedule will be:

Friday—Quarterfinals
Match 1—Non—Wheaton (Central) 11-50 vs. Chicago

(Quigley South) (20-7-1)

Match 2—2 p.m.—Wheaton-Warrenville (12-1-4) vs. Oak Park-River Forest (10-5-3)

Match 3—5:30 p.m.—Granite City (South) (23-1-1) vs. Lake Forest (H.S.) (14-5-1)

Match 4—7:30 p.m.—Chicago (Schurz) (16-3-1) vs. Chicago (Schurz) (13-4-0)

Match 5—9:30 a.m.—Winner Match No. 1 vs. Winner Match No. 2 (semifinals)

Match 6—11:30 a.m.—Winner Match No. 3 vs. Winner Match No. 4 (semifinals)

Match 7—1:30 p.m.—Winner Match No. 5 vs. Winner Match No. 6 (championship)

Chicago (Schurz) and Chicago (Kenwood) played for the Chicago Public League title and berth in the state final tournament Monday afternoon.

Schurz took a 15-3-1 record into the match, while Kenwood of Chicago was 11-2-1 for six in.

The Schurz squad won, 3-1. Highland Park, which beat Quigley South in the season opener, 2-1, upset highly-regarded Chicago (Gordon Tech) 2-1 and Evanston 1-0 on penalty kicks in the final two matches of the Skokie (Niles West) Sectional. Coach Ray Roy's Giants also own a 3-0 regular season win over Oak Park-River Forest.

Granite City (South), which has allowed only 13 goals to be scored against it in 25 matches, is riding a 19-game win streak.

Coach Gene Baker's Warriors, after losing for the only time this season to St. Louis (St. Thomas Aquinas) 2-0, won 15 straight games to conclude the regular season. In tournament play, three of the Warriors' four sectional opponents scored a single goal. The wins were 12-1 over Springfield Southeast, 4-0 over Assumption, 2-1 in overtime over Quincy Notre Dame and 2-1 over Collinsville.

Oak Park-River Forest, after losing the season finale to Wheaton (Central) 2-1, blanked each of its four sectional foes, scoring a total of eight goals along the way.

Quigley South, making its second state final appearance, features a high-powered offense which has produced 18 goals in its last eight matches. Coach Bob Pfeiffer's Spartans face a team riding a nine-game win streak and one that may be the most explosive on offense among the eight survivors.

Wheaton (Central), following a 4-1 loss to Winnetka (New Trier East), has since blasted its last nine opponents by an overall goal count of 40-5, including a 2-0 victory over Quigley South.

Wheaton-Warrenville could help to produce a sensational semifinal match in which it can join cross-town rival Wheaton (Central) in the win column Friday.

Granite City (South) is the only returnee from last fall's final field.

Penalty kicks after the overtime will be used to decide advancement in the quarterfinal and semifinal rounds, but there will be no limit to overtime in the title match.

School, enrollment, coach, record to date, previous advancement and record of each team follow:

Wheaton (Central), 1383, Al Duhm, 15-5-1, 1-2-1.

Chicago (Quigley South),

1,932 boys, Bob Pfeiffer, 20-7-1, 1-1-1.

Wheaton-Warrenville, 1,204, Leon Bushman, 12-1-4, 0-0-0.

Oak Park-River Forest, 4,200, Dick Trout, 10-5-3, 0-0-0.

Granite City (South), 2,668, Gene Baker, 23-1-1, 2-7-2.

Lake Forest (H.S.), 1,172, Ed Kozicki, 14-5-1, 1-0-2.

Chicago (Schurz), 4,096, Gus Pappas, 16-3-1, 0-0-0.

Park athletes to be honored

National Sports figures will participate Monday evening, Nov. 15, in the Granite City Park District's 16th annual sports awards banquet honoring 600 area athletes for their endeavors and accomplishments in park district sports programs during the past year.

The banquet preceding award presentations is to start at 6:15 p.m. Monday in the cafeteria at GCIS High School.

Awards are to be given in flag football, basketball, basketball, girls' and boys' tennis and men's and women's softball.

In addition, eight special service awards and an appreciation award will be presented, the latter to an individual or individuals contributing to the overall sports program in the community.

Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation, has announced that athletes and their parents have received tickets for the event and that 50 additional tickets, at a cost of $2.75, are now available — at the park office only — to the general public.

A KMOX-TV sports announcer, Gary Bender, will serve as master of ceremonies and will introduce such sports personalities as Gary Hammond and Gene Gieselmann.

Bender, a native of Kansas, now resides with his family in St. Louis. He joined the KMOX-TV sports staff in September 1975 and also signed with CBS Sports as announcer for National Football League 1976 contests.

He was the radio voice of the Green Bay Packers football team for six years and also served as announcer in radio and television for Wisconsin Badgers football, basketball and hockey games.

Also, prior to joining the St. Louis station, Bender provided national and regional coverage for Television Sports Network as color commentator for the Big Ten Football Conference.

The St. Louis Cardinal baseball club's trainer, Gene Gieselmann, was born in Kansas City, Mo., and is a 1964 graduate of Lindbergh High School, where he was a student trainer for all varsity sports.

Gieselmann served as a student trainer for four years in varsity sports at Wichita State University before graduating in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree, majoring in physical education. During his college career, he also assisted Trainer Wayne Rudy of the Kansas City Chiefs at the Chiefs' summer camp.

A certified member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association, Gieselmann joined the Cardinal organization in the summer of 1968 as a trainer for the Red Birds' St. Petersburg club in the Class A Florida State League.

Gieselmann was named trainer of the St. Louis University Billiken hockey team in 1970, and in 1971 became head trainer for the baseball Cardinals. He and his wife make their home in St. Louis.

St. Louis Cardinal football player Hammond, 27, has seen action in nearly every game this season in the Big Red's climb to a 7-2 record going into this weekend's contest with the Los Angeles Rams. Acquired by the Cardinals on waivers from the New York Jets in 1972, Hammond played in nine games that year, 12 in 1974 and all 14 league games in 1975.

A third-round draft choice of the Jets in 1972, he was sidelined in his rookie season due to knee surgery.

Considered as a versatile athlete, Hammond served as both running back and wide receiver for the Cardinals in addition to being the team's second-leading punt and kickoff returner in 1975, and also played free safety in pre-season contests.

Against Dallas in 1975, he took a lateral from Quarterback Earl Hart and passed on an 81-yard play to Jackie Smith to set up an initial touchdown in the St. Louis team's 31-28 win — the longest pass play in the National Football Conference that season. He went on to tie a Cardinal record that year with six punt returns, all in a contest with Philadelphia.

In college at Southern Methodist, Hammond was an all-conference pick as wide receiver as a sophomore and as a running back in his junior year. He was conference player of the year as a quarterback in his senior year.

His collegiate football career record included 101 pass receptions for a total gain of 1,311 yards, and he rushed for 396 yards and scored 13 touchdowns.

Hammond, thus far this season, has fumbles in one Hart aerial for a five-yard gain and has returned three punts for a total of 16 yards.

Grayhounds, coming out of starting position No. 15, are expected to get challenges for the Class AA honors from Minonk-Dana-Rutland, Fairfield and St.

Lebanon rates as a favorite in Class A, but the chase for team honors in Class AA appears to be tightly bunched when the first-ever two-class Illinois High School Association (IHSA) boys' state soccer meet is conducted Saturday over the three-mile course at Detweiler Park on Illinois Route 29 on the north edge of Peoria.

CHS North is among the competing schools in Class AA. Runners from 20 teams (a total of 140) plus 20 individuals not members of teams in the race for team honors will battle for the Class A team and individual titles at 10 a.m.

At 11:30, runners from 28 teams (196 total) plus 29 qualified individuals will run for the Class AA titles.

Schools with enrollments of 750 or more compete in Class AA. The Class A awards ceremony is scheduled to begin at noon at the Peoria (High School) Gym. The Class AA ceremony will start at the host school's gym at 1:30 p.m.

The three-mile course at Detweiler Park, considered one of the best high school courses in the nation, is expected to be lined by upwards of 7,000 spectators.

Coach Ira Price's Lebanon Grayhounds, coming out of starting position No. 15, are expected to get challenges for the Class AA honors from Minonk-Dana-Rutland, Fairfield and St.

Lebanon stormed to the sectional team title on its home layout with 40 points. Runnersup Decatur was at 113 for second.

The Grayhounds did not produce the individual champion, though, as Mark Capelle of Highland (St. Paul) posted a 2:25 over the three-mile course.

In team scoring, though, Lebanon got No. 1 from junior Victor Burns, No. 2 from junior Jeff Lee, No. 6 from junior Greg Hoo, No. 10 from coach's son, Junior Burns, No. 21 from junior Chuck Rutherford and No. 35 from Freshman V. Dagner.

Other Class A sectional champions were Fairfield with 53 points at Flora, Minonk-Dana-Rutland with 51 points at Booneville and Winnebago with 49 points at Maple Park.

Tim Rattin of St. Anne posted the top sectional individual time of 14:51 over the three-mile course at Booneville.

Class AA sectional team champions were: Alton (Sr.) at Decatur with 59 points, Wheaton (North) at Glen Ellyn (Oakland West) with 56 points on a one-point margin over Coach Joe Newton's Dukes of Elmhurst (York), Moline at DeKalb with 44 points, Deerfield at Crystal Lake with 38 points and Orland Park (Sandburg) at Dolton (Thorndike) with 38 points.

The 12 combination of junior Tom Graves and senior Bob Hicks for Orland Park (Sandburg), which finished first and second in the race for sectional individual honors, rates at good odds to equal that accomplishment in the state final meet.

Graves and Hicks, if they get a little help from their teammates, could spark Sandburg to the team title, too.

Each team competing in the state final meet will send seven runners to the starting line, but only the top five finishers will count in the team scoring.

Chicago Heights (Bloom), which won the final two single-class races, did not qualify this year.

Granite City High School North runners are fleet Mike Baker, Gregory Stout and Royce Meyenburg, juniors; David Ebrecht and Donald Pacy, seniors; and Aaron Hickman and Ed Futch, sophomores. Baker was second individual in the Decatur sectional and North High was fifth.

Lebanon stormed to the sectional team title on its home layout with 40 points. Runnersup Decatur was at 113 for second.

The Grayhounds did not produce the individual champion, though, as Mark Capelle of Highland (St. Paul) posted a 2:25 over the three-mile course.

In team scoring, though, Lebanon got No. 1 from junior Victor Burns, No. 2 from junior Jeff Lee, No. 6 from junior Greg Hoo, No. 10 from coach's son, Junior Burns, No. 21 from junior Chuck Rutherford and No. 35 from Freshman V. Dagner.

Other Class A sectional champions were Fairfield with 53 points at Flora, Minonk-Dana-Rutland with 51 points at Booneville and Winnebago with 49 points at Maple Park.

Tim Rattin of St. Anne posted the top sectional individual time of 14:51 over the three-mile course at Booneville.

Class AA sectional team champions were: Alton (Sr.) at Decatur with 59 points, Wheaton (North) at Glen Ellyn (Oakland West) with 56 points on a one-point margin over Coach Joe Newton's Dukes of Elmhurst (York), Moline at DeKalb with 44 points, Deerfield at Crystal Lake with 38 points and Orland Park (Sandburg) at Dolton (Thorndike) with 38 points.

The 12 combination of junior Tom Graves and senior Bob Hicks for Orland Park (Sandburg), which finished first and second in the race for sectional individual honors, rates at good odds to equal that accomplishment in the state final meet.

Graves and Hicks, if they get a little help from their teammates, could spark Sandburg to the team title, too.

Each team competing in the state final meet will send seven runners to the starting line, but only the top five finishers will count in the team scoring.

Chicago Heights (Bloom), which won the final two single-class races, did not qualify this year.

Granite City High School North runners are fleet Mike Baker, Gregory Stout and Royce Meyenburg, juniors; David Ebrecht and Donald Pacy, seniors; and Aaron Hickman and Ed Futch, sophomores. Baker was second individual in the Decatur sectional and North High was fifth.

Soccer Cougars await tournament selections

After a pressure-packed 90 minutes of soccer at Busch Memorial Stadium in St. Louis, the Cougars were left with a 1-0 decision but the two collegiate superpowers had almost identical records. SLU, 11-3-0 and SLU, 12-3-1. The weekend victory gave the Bills a 3-2-1 edge in the Bronze Bowl series between the two schools.

The next day, the Bills had to fight overtime to defeat by 4-2 the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle Chikas, a team which the Cougars handled with ease just a week ago in the Windy City, 3-0.

It was obvious to the 7,383 fans who braved a chilly and windy night at Busch Stadium that the game would be decided by a lucky break. A slipping foot on the astraddle by an SLU defender permitted the Bills' striker, Kevin Handlan, to penetrate for what turned out to be a bad shot. It was converted into a winning goal by an alert and aggressive substitute forward, Tom Malle.

Malle was the individual star, although he could have also been the "goal" of the game. He'd missed an "open" goal shot in the first half with four minutes and 48 seconds left when SLU goalie Bob Robson was faked out of the goal and Malle's shot went wild.

For the Cougars, who outshot the Bills 21-20, Mark Moran, midfielder, missed an open goal effort shortly after the second half began. The loss of midfielder John Zacheis midway through the game also cost the Cougars.

Tim Twillman and Greg Villa also missed golden opportunities to score for the Cougars.

The dyed-in-the-wool soccer fan would have given the Cougars a slight advantage except for the score. The expert's opinion would have been influenced by the corner kick totals: The Cougars held a wide margin, seven-to-one.

But, time after time, the stingy Billiken defense fought off the Cougars' advantage in corner kicks and prevented an SLU score. Some of SLU's 45 goals have come off converted corner kicks, five by inbounder Chris Cacciatore.

SLU Coach Keough threw a hard ball at the Cougars when he started his freshman goalie, Dave Breic, instead of the Bills' veteran junior keeper, Keith Valero. Breic responded with a minor masterpiece of goalkeeping, making 13 saves. Robson wasn't far behind with nine saves.

The four Midwest NCAA regional schools won't be picked until after tomorrow, when SLU travels to Texas to play the Cougars at the University of Texas at Austin. SLU's Mustangs. A victory for SLU would almost surely give the Mustangs a berth in the NCAA tournament along with, right now at least, Indiana University, SLU and St. Louis U.

If the Mustangs lose to the Bills, then the Akron U. Zips would be a strong possibility for a berth.

In NCAA division I post-season competition, the country is divided into six regions: the Far West, Midwest, New England, New York, the South and the three-state Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Delaware group.

The Far West and Midwest regions draw a bye. The other four regions must be decided by this weekend, enabling the four survivors on the East Coast to decide their representatives in the national finals to be held this year at Philadelphia

GC state soccer championship in '72 recalled as new Illinois tourney opens Coach Gene Baker and Granite City High School South's soccer Warriors seek this weekend to return home with the first Illinois High School Association state tournament title since former coach John Selmeyer guided Granite City High School to a 23-1 record and a 2-1 state championship double overtime win over New Trier West in 1972.

South enters this year's tourney at Maine East High School at Park Ridge with a 23-1 mark which includes 19 straight wins and a four-game sweep of sectional play.

The "rookie" soccer team here in 1970 under Coach Tom Wyrostek and Assistant Coach Stan Wojcik posted a 12-1-4 season, and the following year Selmeyer's Warriors went undefeated, 19 wins, no losses and one tie.

In 1972, Selmeyer's squad set many records, including capturing the first-ever Illinois state championship in the sport, which then involved only four sectional winners.

The records set were: most victories for a Warrior soccer team, 21; most goals in a single season 97; most shutouts, 16; and the most all-state team members, three.

The most goals in a season topped the 84 earned in 1971 and the 59 in 1970. The 16 shutouts in a season exceeded the Warriors' 10 in 1971 and nine in 1970.

The initial year for Coach Baker and Assistant Coach Mel Butting here was 1973. They were assigned to the renamed Granite City High School South when the school district divided high school zones and created GCHS North.

Baker led the Warriors to a 19-2-1 season and third place in the second annual state tournament with a 1-0 win over Lake Forest.

The 92 goals scored in 1973 by the Warriors failed to surpass the 1972 total, but the eight goals scored against South by opponents set another record, below the 12 goals against of 1972.

Three Warriors again received all-state honors, including Don Goldschmidt, who set a new school record for individual goals scored with 28.

He is playing soccer now for St. Louis University.

In 1974, Coach Robert Kehoe's GCHS North Steelers beat South in the sectional title game but fell by the wayside at the state meet with a 2-0 loss to eventual state champion New Trier West.

The state tournament took on a new format in 1974, expanding from a four to eight schools.

Coach Baker's charges again made it to state in 1975 but concluded the season with a 19-3 record in suffering a 1-0 double overtime loss to eventual state champion Hinsdale Central.

South's record included a 17-game winning streak.

The 1975 Warrior squad scored 62 goals against opponents and allowed opposing teams to score only 15.

That was the year two brothers, both sophomores, led the Warrior scoring attack — Mark Goldschmidt with 19 and David Goldschmidt with 12.

Mark Goldschmidt received all-state honors.

The 1976 Warriors already have broken two previous records. David Goldschmidt has a new individual scoring mark of 32 goals and, overall, South has scored 121 points against its opponents thus far.

Since the sport of soccer was introduced in Granite City high schools, Warrior teams have an overall record (including games played this season) of 128 wins against 11 losses and 12 ties.

Defending South's net tomorrow in the state tourney will be Junior Barry Briggs, who this season has been instrumental in 15 shutouts.

Expected to join David and Mark Goldschmidt and Briggs on the playing field are Gary Phelps, Greg Feigl, Rick Fernandez, Joe Theis, Dave Mendoza, Rick Hecherer, Mike Voegelé, Mark Spiroff, Fred Schuler, Mike Austin, Dave Moutria, John Prazma and nearly all other players on the Warrior roster.

Expanded ice hockey program to begin year

Participating teams of the Granite City Amateur Ice Hockey Association start a seventh season of competition this weekend with an expanded program.

Included will be a division similar to a Junior "B" League. Jake Hinterster, association president, has announced.

In past seasons, competition has been restricted to youths aged 5-16, but now a junior league for young men aged 17-20 has been added.

"The additional division was initiated to provide competition for young men out of school age," Hinterster noted.

Eleven teams compose the six divisions and will provide recreation for about 500 area athletes.

The six divisions, and teams in each, with age group given, are: Mites—ages 5-8, Sternberg Construction and Middendorf Meats of St. Louis; Squirts—ages 9-10, Hamiltonian Federal Savings and Granite Sheet Metal.

Peewee—ages 11-12, Knowles Ford of Edwardsville and Grove Plumbing; Bantam—ages 13-14, P and S Amusement and Ed Moore Construction; Midget—ages 15-16, Peters Construction and Metro-East Plumbing Supplies; Junior—ages 17-20, Lindsay Construction.

Each team may carry up to 18 players on its roster. Each will face a 20-game season, not including tournament play.

All home contests are to be held at the Wilson Park ice rink. Player safety is stressed by team coaches, and a completely-equipped athlete may have more protection than a football player.

Pads, uniforms and equipment cost as much as $250 per player, not counting skates and sticks. Hockey skates range in price from $80 to $150, while hockey sticks vary from $7 to $10.

Belleville West, Roxana advance

Belleville West and Roxana both advanced to quarterfinal play of Illinois High School Association football playoffs on opening-round wins yesterday.

West 23-11 over Galesburg in Class 3A and Roxana 17-7 over Charleston in 3A.

West, undefeated with a 10-0 record, travels to Elgin for a 1:30 p.m. Saturday quarterfinal contest. Roxana, now 9-1, hosts Murphysboro Saturday, also at 1:30 p.m.

Little Rascal grid award dinner Sunday

The Granite City Little Rascal Football Club concludes its 1976 season with a fourth annual award banquet Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Croatian Home Hall, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Four participating teams and their cheerleaders will be honored.

Two of the teams took runner-up honors in Tri-County Junior Football Conference competition in the midget and junior pee wee divisions.

Wayne Angle club president, said the banquet is open only to players, parents, cheerleaders, coaches and club officials.

Opening the 1976 schedule at Wilson Park ice rink are:

SATURDAY, Nov. 13
Pee Wee Division
Grove Plumbing vs. Kirkwood, Mo., 8:45 a.m.
Knowles Ford vs. Kirkwood 5 p.m.

Squirt Division

Registration in Mitchell

The Mitchell Athletic Club will hold registration sessions Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 15 and 16, for area boys and girls in third grade through junior high school age who desire to play basketball starting next month.

The sessions will be conducted from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Mitchell Grade School gymnasium.

Harry Breckner, club president, said a $5 per player fee is required.

Wrestler injured

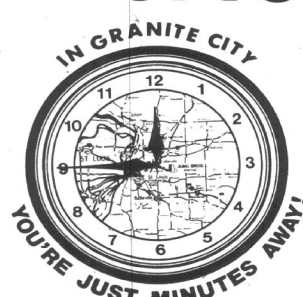

Bill Winter, a member of the sophomore wrestling team at Granite City High School North, suffered fractures of the right leg at 4:30 p.m. Monday and is recuperating at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The injury occurred at the school during a pre-season wrestling bout with a teammate.

TAKE SOUND EQUIPMENT
Sound equipment valued at about $500 was stolen from the rear seat of the locked car of James Walther, 4 Briarcliff Drive, parked at his home, between 1 a.m. and 8 a.m., Tuesday.

Official canvass shows little change in vote

A record vote of 103,006 ballots was cast by Madison County voters in the Nov. 2 elections, according to results of the official canvass announced by County Clerk Evelyn Howles Tuesday.

The previous record high vote of 101,398 was cast throughout the county during the November 1972 election.

While results of the canvass showed minor changes in the unofficial tallies announced last week, none was sufficient to change the outcome of the voting for any office on either the Democratic or Republican ballot.

Democratic Presidential Candidate Jimmy Carter received an official total of 56,457 votes in Madison County, an increase of 97 votes over the unofficial tally of 56,360 announced earlier, while President Ford tallied 44,183 votes in the canvass, a gain of 190 votes over the unofficial return of 43,993.

The official total for Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, was 40,412, a loss of 40 votes from his unofficial tally of 40,452, while his opponent, Republican James Thompson, polled 59,451 officially, compared to 59,213 in the unofficial returns.

The official tally for Alan J. Dixon, Democratic candidate for secretary of state who headed the balloting on both ballots, was 65,060, a gain of 209 votes over his unofficial total of 64,851.

Other official canvass results, with the unofficial tally in parenthesis, were: Attorney general-Cecil A. Partee (D) 45,090 (45,043), William J. Scott (R) 48,483 (48,488). Comptroller - Michael J. Bakalis (D) 52,330 (52,334), George W. Lindberg (R) 38,823 (38,750).

Congressman - 23rd Congressional district - Melvin Price (D) 51,425 Madison County (51,170) and 76,688 St. Clair County (74,932). Total official vote districtwide 128,113 (128,122). Sam P. Drenovac (R) 14,406 Madison County (14,413) and 20,417 St. Clair County (20,631). Total districtwide 34,825 (35,044).

Slate Senator, 56th Legislative District - Sam Vadalabene (D) 43,396 Madison

County (43,913) and 3,764 St. Clair County (3,763). Total districtwide 47,160 (47,676).

Glenn T. Wilson (R) 16,276 Madison County (16,429) and 1,148 St. Clair County (1,143).

Total districtwide 17,519 (17,572).

State representative, 56th Legislative District - Joe E. Lucco (D) 56,411 Madison

County (54,966) and 5,787 St. Clair County (5,683). Total districtwide 62,178 (60,549).

Jim McPike (D) 51,022 Madison County (49,444) and 4,815 St. Clair County (4,561). Total districtwide 55,637 (54,005).

County auditor - John Kravynak (D) 60,347. No opposition. No unofficial vote tallied.

Circuit judge - Horace Calvo (D) 62,414. No opposition. No unofficial vote tallied.

Prison judge retention - Joseph J. Barr, Yes 29,244 (28,526) No 5,822 (5,806). Harold R. Clark, Yes 27,864 (27,823) No 5,231 (5,400).

For President on the Independent Party ballot - Eugene McCarthy 1,065 (1,079). Homer Boothman (D) received an official tally of 1,142 to win re-election as County Board member of district 25 in Granite City. He defeated Michael Nance who received 775 votes in the official canvass.

Boothman received 1,178 votes in the unofficial returns, and Nance polled 512 unofficially.

In other Quad-City board member elections in which there was no opposition to Democratic candidates, all seeking re-election, the official tally gave Herbert Milton 1,500 votes unchanged from the unofficial vote of 1,142.

Jay D. Maurer received 2,440 votes unchanged from the unofficial vote of 2,440. Arthur "Cooper" Moore tallied 2,301 votes unchanged from the earlier return in District 24.

Mulching roses a high priority

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT Area Advisor

Ornamental Horticulture

If Monday's freeze is an indication of the weather to come, mulching your roses should be a "high priority" project. The temperature skidded to 16 degrees.

Winter mulching is a mound of mulch around the crown and lower branches to insulate these tender areas from cold weather. Leaves, sawdust, wood chips, compost or garden soil all do a good job.

Add enough material to generously cover the crown of the plant. If you use leaves, wet them thoroughly to keep them from scattering.

Prune back the tops of tea and floribunda roses to 18-24 inch stubs. Trimming in the fall keeps the wind from whipping the plant and loosening its root system.

Next spring, when the plants begin to bud out, scatter the mulch among the plants to provide weed control. Further prune the branches to 12-15 inch stubs while removing dead wood, crossing limbs and weak branches.

Tree roses require special wrapping to protect them from winter killing. Wrap the graft and lower portions of the branches with straw and burlap. Do not use polyethylene wrapping.

In colder areas where winter temperatures get lower than 10 below zero, the entire plant should be buried. Large plants can be uprooted on one side, laid against the ground and then covered with soil, straw or manure.

+++ Frosted tops of mums, marigolds, peonies and other perennials make a good mulch for bulbs and wintering perennials.

Hand-crushing is usually adequate to produce a thin layer of tops over everything in one's garden.

Recycling these tops softens the appearance of bare soil or clear-pruned crowns while the tops catch leaves and blowing snow to provide additional insulation.

Rotating the tops will provide a degree of disease and insect control. When you move the chrysanthemum tops to the peonies, the mums insects and disease that survive on the dead tops do not re-infest your mums next year.

In the spring, slightly rearrange the mulch to allow the chrysanthemum tops to come through while the mulch continues to rot.

Mrs. Morrison dies at 78

Mrs. Madeline "Madge" Morrison, 78, of 908 N. Phillip St., Kokomo, Ind., a sister of Mrs. Emmett (Irene) Vartan of Granite City, died Monday at her home.

She was born in Charleston, Ill., and had resided in Granite City for four years prior to moving to Indiana.

Her husband, Howard Morrison, died in April this year. Other survivors include three daughters who reside in Indiana and a son residing in Florida. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday in Kokomo, Ind.

Whitt attends reality meet

Realtor James C. Whitt of Whitt Realty Co., 3516 Nameoki Road, returned Thursday from a five-day quarterly meeting and convention of the Illinois Association of Realtors.

Whitt, who is District 4 vice-president, participated in the planning and policy making of the association representing an all-time high of over 21,000 real estate brokers and salespersons in Illinois.

During the five-day meeting, members reviewed their legislative activities in the 1975 Illinois General Assembly. Those who attended also began planning new legislation for the 60th General Assembly. A comprehensive town-tenant law will be introduced along with condominium reform bills, contracts for deeds, farm sales, mortgage rates and land use legislation.

The Real Estate Education Foundation awarded real estate scholarships of $500 to two students.

The Realtors Political Action Committee (RPAC) announced that it had exceeded its goal by raising over $191,000 in contributions. RPAC is a non-partisan political funding committee. An RPAC contribution is not necessarily an endorsement of a candidate nor does it reflect the views of a recognition that the recipient can make a substantial contribution to good government in Illinois.

Plan Commission to hear zoning pleas

Four pending requests and a new request for zoning changes will be considered by the Granite City Plan Commission during a public meeting at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at the city offices, 2801 Adams St.

The new request is from John Hadley who is requesting a special use permit to manufacture stone fireplaces at 2047 Edison Ave. The location is in a C-1 commercial district.

Holdover requests to be considered include one from Leon Scroggins seeking C-1 zoning for a law office at 2632 Madison Ave., now in an R-5 single-family residential district.

Dr. F. B. Dioneda is requesting a special use permit for a doctor's office at 2819 Madison Ave., in an R-3 single-family residential district.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles is requesting C-1 zoning for a parking lot at 2381 Iowa St., in an R-3 district, and Rhonda Mazzarella is requesting a C-1 classification for a beauty shop at 2906 Roosevelt Ave., presently in an R-3 district.

The Plan Commission's recommendations will be submitted to the Granite City Council for final action on the requests Tuesday, Nov. 23.

New business

A new business, Minnie's Teepee Recreation Parlor, 1229 Madison Ave., Madison, will open tomorrow with an open house from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The parlor features game machines for anyone 16 years old or older. Offered are 20 pin ball machines, 9 novelty games, two regulation-sized pool tables and a variety of vending machines.

Coffee and snacks will be served tomorrow evening during the open house. The facility then will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day, according to Minnie Brown, owner.

She said the building has been completely remodeled and that adult supervision will be offered at all times.

Rites today for Stanley Gorka

Stanley Gorka Sr., 61, of Bethel Road, Caseyville, a brother of Quad-City residents, died Monday at his home.

He was a former truck driver. Survivors include his wife, Carmela M. Gorka, three sons, a daughter, three brothers and a sister, including John Gorka of Granite City and Mrs. Jean Rejewski of Madison.

Services were held at 11 a.m. today at a Collinsville funeral home.

Albert Connor dies at 64

Albert D. Connor, 64, of 2903 Harding Ave., Ill. for 10 years, died at 6:40 a.m. Tuesday at a DeSoto (Mo.) rest home where he had resided one week.

He retired in 1971 as a pipefitter at American Steel Foundries after 29 years of service.

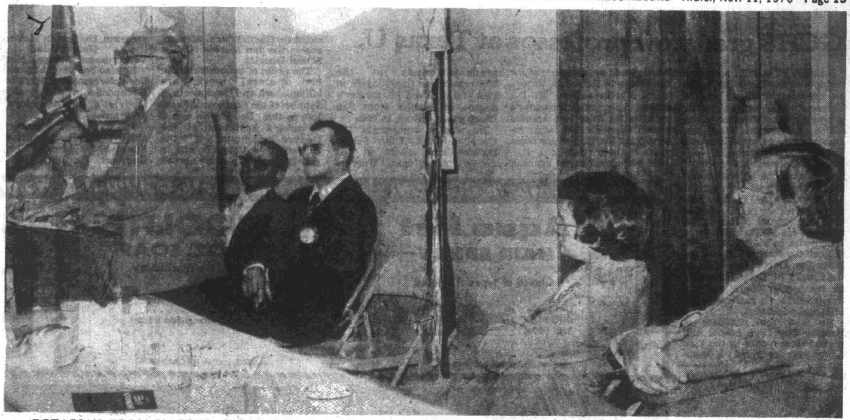

Mr. Connor was born in Murphysboro, Ill., and moved to this area in 1961.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Helen Connor; eight sons, Charles, Troy, Russ, Ralph, Roy D., Gerald Ray, Timmy J. and Joey Connors, all of Granite City; four daughters, Mrs. Steve (Darlene) Norton, Mrs. Luke (Debra) Ray, Shelley Kahn, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Waggoner of Huntsville, Ala.; two brothers, Arden Connor of Steelville, Ill. and Norman Connor of East St. Louis; two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Helen) McLaughlin of St. Charles, Mo., and Mrs. Alta Cutton of Murphysboro, Ill. and 14 grandchildren.

Services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

BREAK INTO HOUSE

A front door to a house at 2417 Edison Ave., was forced open and vacant upstairs rooms being remodeled were believed entered, Robert Metcalf, 2420 Delmar Ave., the owner, reported at 8:40 a.m. It could not be determined if anything was taken, but some small hand tools may be missing, police were told.

GCHS grad now professor at Texas U.

Rudolph F. Martin, a former resident of the Quad-Cities and an assistant professor at the University of Texas, at Austin, is now assistant director of the Office of Bilingual Education, Department of Curriculum and Instruction, at Texas U.

He completed his doctoral dissertation, "A Semantic and Syntactic Analysis of Adverbial Complementization in Spanish" at the University of Colorado, at Boulder, from where he received his Ph.D. in Hispanic Linguistics in May 1975.

Since the start of the current year, Dr. Martin has been on the faculty at Texas U., where he teaches graduate and undergraduate courses in bilingual education.

He is a 1960 graduate of Granite City High School and served three years in the U.S. Army. He received a commission and an assignment for 12 months to Hokkaido, Japan. Dr. Martin earned his BA degree in Spanish and teacher's certification from Los Angeles State College in 1967, after interrupting his studies for three years in the service.

He completed seven hours of graduate study at the Universidad de Guadalajara in 1969 and received his master's degree in Spanish from San Diego State College in 1969.

He was a teacher in the Carlsbad (Calif.) Union School District and taught at the Colegio Americano, Universidad de Guadalajara, Mexico, and in the San Marcos (Calif.) School District.

The areas of concentration in his doctoral work are bilingualism and the dialects of Spanish of the Southwest. From 1969 to 1975, Dr. Martin was a lecturer's assistant at the Denver campus of the University of Colorado and in 1972-73 directed a study abroad program, the first in Mexico, at the Universidad de Veracruzana, Xalapa, Mexico. He also has taught Spanish to law enforcement officers in the Escondido (Calif.) School District's adult education program.

The 46-year-old educator has studied and is proficient in Spanish, Japanese, French, German, Russian and the Lakota Sioux languages. A paper written by Dr. Martin, "Adverbial Modification and Participial Disjunction in Modern Spanish," was read Oct. 22 at the 30th annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association at the College of Santa Fe, N.M.

He has served as president and held other offices in several

Venice Women plan party

The Venice Women's Club met during the weekend at the Venice Recreation Center to complete arrangements for the annual Christmas party scheduled for Dec. 3.

A catered dinner for members and guests will be served at the Recreation Center followed by a gift exchange and entertainment by a local group, it was noted.

The group observed a moment of silence in memory of the late Mrs. Ellen Deering, who was a member of the organization. Hostesses Mesdames Elsie Canner, Ann Hartman and Hazel Postnak provided games and prizes during the social hour.

A dessert course was served by the committee on tables decorated in the harvest theme with baskets and cornucopias of fruit in keeping with the Thanksgiving tradition.

Others present included Mesdames Alice Mitchell, Catherine Van Horn, Margaret Seibert, Josephine Johnisse, Ilsa Bauer, Lulu Kowalski, Sybil Hobbs, Grace Grimes, Hazel Painter, Naomi Boelling, Hazel Owens, Nora McCoid, Loretta Ziegler, Ruth Canner, Mamie Ponce and Madonna Groshong.

Psalm 9:17, "The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all nations that forget God."

If you are a student of history then you are well aware of the fact that nations rise and nations fall. It is not for lack of government or able leaders. It is not for lack of civil law enforcement. It is not for lack of capital and profitable investments. No, the reason for the decline of any nation is the fact that God is forgotten.

As a matter of record it is always true that prosperity turns nations away from God and more toward the pleasures of this life, drinking, gambling, amusements. It is truly amazing how quickly we forget how to pray if our wealth provides our national needs.

However, let us remember that every good and perfect gift cometh down from the Father above. Let us not fail to give God praise for our nation's blessings. Today.

James E. Lux dies at 50

James E. Lux, 50, of 3124 Colgate Place, a lifelong resident of Granite City, became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

He had been ill one month.

Mr. Lux had been employed as an operator at the North Plant of Granite City Steel for 27 years. He was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. William Lux; two sons, James Alvin Lux and Vernon L. Lux, both of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. Robert (Zelma) Owens of Collinsville, Mrs. James (Norma) Thomas and Mrs. John (Dorothy) Arrington, both of Florissant, Mo.; his mother, Mrs. Opal Lux of Granite City and one grandchild.

Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Woman, daughter injured in crash

Mrs. Lois Julius, 35, and her 8-year-old daughter, Yelanda Julius, both of 1324 Carr St., were injured when their auto, stopped for a left turn from Route 102 onto Louisa Street, was struck from behind by the auto of Martin Schlemer, 62, Edwardsville, according to official reports.

Schlemer was charged with following too closely.

Mrs. Julius and her daughter were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where the girl was examined for a displaced vertebrae and was transferred to Belleville Memorial Hospital. She later was transferred again to Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Julius was treated at the hospital here for an injury to her left knee. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Veteran population drops in Illinois

According to a Veterans Administration tabulation as of June 30, the state of Illinois lost some 2,000 of its veteran population during the past year.

The new VA report, issued this month, says the state now has 1,557,000 veterans of all wars.

Throughout the nation the veteran population increased by 148,000 during the past year to 29,607,000. The report revealed the number of Vietnam-era veterans exceeded the eight million mark for the first time.

The largest segment of the veteran population continued to be 13,355,000 World War II veterans, down from 13,586,000 one year ago.

Nearly a million veterans were 75 years of age or older. Included were 867,000 World War I veterans, 100,000 fewer than last year. Their average age was 81.

Some 675 Spanish-American War veterans were older statesmen among the former service members. Their average age was 96.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., Nov. 11, 1976 Page 16

Nine states continued to house more than half of the veterans; 15.7 million. Five of these leaders showed declines in veteran population over the 12-month period.

The largest state increase — 39,000 — boosted Florida to 1,192,000, moving the state into seventh place ahead of Michigan in veteran population. California continued to lead the nation with 3,267,000 veterans, up 29,000 over last year.

The other seven states with more than a million veterans are New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey.

Friends of Dr. Ray E. Troyer, who has retired from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville after 15 years, are invited to attend a retirement dinner in his honor on Thursday, September 10, in the Missouri-Illinois Room at SIUE University Center.

Dr. Troyer lives at 3316 Franklin Ave., and has been coming here in 1961. In addition to his professional career as an educator, he has "dedicated his life in working with youth," his colleagues say.

Saturday's event is being arranged by the faculty of SIUE's Department of Career and Senior Education.

Reservations for the dinner can be made through noon on Friday, September 8, to Mrs. Meredith or Lee Myers at 1-462-3930, or C.A. McMillan Jr., at 478-2383.

Dr. Troyer served as president of the Granite City Optimal Club in 1967-68 and has helped to develop programs here in cooperation with Coordinated Youth Services, the Granite City YMCA, Parents' Teacher associations and other

He is a member of the YMCA board of directors and the governing board of Coordinated Youth Services.

The educator has worked closely with CVS to organize special programs for young students.

His most recent endeavor was arranging and carrying out a program for the summer for program for 68 children who live in public housing projects in Chicago, Madison and Granite City.

Dr. Troyer also is a minister of the Reorganized Church of Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

Dr. Troyer has expressed the hope that he will be able to visit with former students and colleagues

Venice School administrators and Guidance Counselor Albert Schaefer, announced that a Career Fair was held at the high school last week with representatives present to discuss industrial production, civil services, banking, health services, airline occupations, law enforcement, food services, secretarial-clerical and the military services.

Students gave a warm reception to Stanley Howlett, Granite City Steel; Harriet Jones, Civil Service Commission; Miguel Garcia, Urban League; James Foley, First National Bank of Madison; Donald Umstead, Ozark Airlines; James Bennett and Burl Reed, Venice Police Department; Mrs. Charlene Vunovic, First Union Bank corporation, and Mrs. Gail Foley, Ralston Purina.

Mrs. Margaret Lee was instrumental in obtaining representation of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in health services by Mrs. Helen Bergfield, Wilma Vizeer, Marie Prelin and Gary Erhard.

Student Council President Andrea Withers, Principal John Rush and Superintendent Robert Vickers welcomed participants at a brief orientation session.

Members of the Student Council served as guides, with refreshments provided under the Title VII program.

After the sessions, a luncheon was served in the home economics department under the supervision of Mrs. Johnny Morris, home economics instructor, and Mrs. Hazel Smith, vocational coordinator for the

Because of needed repairs at Locks and Dam No. 26, Alton, and Locks No. 27, Granite City, it will be necessary to close these installations periodically in order to accomplish the repairs, Col. Leon E. McKinney, St. Louis district engineer, reminded shippers this week.

"As a result of recent underwater divers inspections, voids were discovered underneath the intermediate lock wall at Locks and Dam 26," he stated.

"In order to repair this condition, a contract will be awarded to begin in early January 1977. The contract will require a total of 125 days, of which it is currently anticipated both the main and auxiliary locks will be closed for a maximum of 10 hours per day for an estimated 22 days at the beginning of this work.

Both the main and auxiliary locks will also be closed for an additional two days in late April in order to backfill the interior part of the intermediate lock wall after the voids have been grouted.

"The remaining contract work will be accomplished while the main Alton lock is in operation. The auxiliary lock will be closed periodically during the course of the contract."

"Contract works at Locks No. 27, Granite City, to replace embedded metals in the main chamber, is anticipated to begin in mid-December 1976 for approximately 105 days.

"Of this contract period, the main chamber will be closed for approximately 90 days.

"The 600-foot auxiliary lock will remain open to navigation will remain open to navigation during this period of time and all vessels requiring double lockage of the auxiliary chamber will be required to

"All vessel owners and operators are being requested to cooperate and follow the directions of the lockmasters or their representatives during these periods. Maximum efforts will be made to minimize interference with navigation," Col. McKinney said.

A total of 379 students in the Venice grade and high schools have been awarded certificates for good attendance. Included are those not having been absent more than one day in the first six-week marking period which ended in October.

Attendance in the grade school related to a comparable period last year was up from 94.85 to 96.26 per cent. In the high school, it was down from 93.36 to 91.71 per cent. Overall attendance went up from 94.30 to 94.79 per cent, according to Robert N. Vickers, superin-

Students receiving the awards in grades kindergarten through sixth took their certificates home in their report cards. Students in grade 7-12 received their certificates in the

The program for improving attendance is sponsored jointly by the schools and the Title VII pilot team funded for the 1976-77 year under the Emergency School Aid Act.

Pilot team members are: Georgia Falwell, counselor; Brenda Ervin, coordinator of school and community relations; and Annie Ruth Mosby, Delores Scaturro and Carol Williams, aides. Althea Cross is the project director.

Purpose of the program is to encourage students to attend school more regularly and to improve the relationship between the home and the school.

Student to enter Phi Kappa Phi

A two-time recipient of the Nobel Prize heads the list of scholars who will be received Nov. 17 into the Phi Kappa Phi honor society at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

An honorary life membership will go to Prof. John Bardeen, co-recipient of the Nobel Prize in physics in 1956 for invention of the transistor and in 1972 for the BCS theory of superconductivity.

Three others from the UIUC faculty and 340 juniors, seniors and graduate students will become members of Phi Kappa Phi during the ceremony at 7:30 p.m. in the Illini Union.

Diel-Buckingham nuptials

June Buckingham of Barlow, Ky., a daughter of Mrs. Leona Angle, 2202 Kirkpatrick Homes and the late E. F. "Red" Angle Sr., and Hubert Diel of Detroit, Mich., a son of Mrs. Beulah Salp, Mayfield, Ky. and the late Thomas B. Diel, were united in marriage on Nov. 6, at the Assembly of God Church, Edwardsville.

The Rev. Rudy Gaines officiated at the 4 o'clock afternoon ceremony.

After the service a reception was held in the home of the newly married couple at 106 Madison St., Glen Carbon.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Diel, Eugene Diel and Curtis Diel of Edwardsville, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Angle Jr., Mrs. Leona Angle, Mrs. Beulah Salp, Mrs. Lillian Hanlon, Dale Martin, Dennis Revelle, Doris Revelle, Lee Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy H. White and children, Warla Lord and Shelley and Mr. and Mrs. Don Willis of Granite City.

Georgia Beasley, Glen and Gary Beasley, Lucinda, Lomile and Lannie Buckingham of Glen Carbon, Jesse W. Davis, Mrs. Rose Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Lawrence and children of Madison and Mrs. Helen Cochran of Mitchell, Ill.

Brownies attend matinee

An afternoon matinee at the American Theater in St. Louis was enjoyed during weekend by Brownie Troop 986 of Mitchell School.

A marionette performance of "Aladdin" was presented by the Bob Kramer Marionettes of South County, St. Louis. Following the matinee, Doug Felcher, associate of Kramer, directed a tour backstage and explained the construction of the puppets and held a question and answer session with the scouts.

Enroute home the scouts were treated to "fun meals" at the Burger Chef on Madison

Attending were Kalani Cornelison, Lisa DeNann, Gina Garner, Leann Gorrell, Lynetta Kelley, Terry Kofahl, Kayla Krug, Dianna Merz, Meredith Moss, Glinda Nipper, Julie Pates, Connie Baugh of Brownie Troop 581, Melissa Colbert, Shelley McNelly of Junior Scout Troop 1120 and guests Clara Cornelison, Christina Kelley, Glenn Kelley and Jimmy McNelly and Troop Leaders Mrs. Danna Kelley, Mrs. Connie Cornelison and guests Mrs. Theresa Kelley, Mrs. Cynthia Nipper and Glen Cornelison.

Love Circle hears Mrs. Klein

Mrs. Josephine Ramsey, leader of the Love Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, opened the meeting last week by reading a poem entitled, "Thank You God for Everything" written by Helen Steiner Rice.

Circle members met in the home of Mrs. June Karandjeff for an afternoon session.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. Marie Klein who chose an article from The Guide Post entitled "The Blessings We Try to Avoid" written by Norman Vincent Peale. The article stressed that trouble makes people stronger therefore they are blessings. Mrs. Ramsey announced the church bazaar will be held at the church on Friday, Nov. 19 and will feature a luncheon and dinner as well as many Christmas items and bakery goods.

She also noted a meeting on Crime Blockers will be conducted at the church at 12:30 p.m. today.

Others present included Mrs. Lottie Howerton, Mrs. Paula Smith, Mrs. Lena Rouland and Mrs. Clara Sotiroff, and Miss Ella Ray Smith.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 2 at the church.

Senior Citizen dinners planned

Anchorage Senior Citizen Club discussed several dinner parties to be held during the month for senior citizens who reside in the Quad-City area.

President Mrs. Georgia Butler led the group in reciting the Lord's Prayer, to open the monthly business session.

She announced a luncheon at noon on Nov. 14 will be served at the Salvation Army Center, 3007 East 23rd St. followed by formal dedication ceremony for the new building at 3 p.m.

Two separate dinners are arranged for Nov. 17 to include the annual Thanksgiving observance at 12 noon at the Senior Citizen Center and a ham, bean and cornbread dinner on the same day at 11 a.m. at the YMCA sponsored by the Department of Aging, which is open to all senior citizens.

Members during this month were honored with song and later refreshments of cake, donuts and coffee were served.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing games.

Mothers club makes plans for holidays

A covered dish luncheon and Christmas party were planned last week by the Lincoln Place Mothers Club at a business meeting in the Lincoln Place Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus Ave.

Mrs. Verna Michel, president, was in charge and announced the holiday event will take place Dec. 1 at the center. Each member was asked to bring an exchange gift.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Helen Simpson and Mrs. Josephine Vangel. Cake and coffee were served.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Anna Kuruz, Mrs. Ann Velloff, Mrs. Mary Andria and Mrs. Rose Grim.

Also present were Mesdames Mary Driscoll, Linda Garcia, Virginia Kittle, Irene Kozma, Virginia Sever and Mary St. Ivary.

Country Store at Eagles set

The annual "Country Store" project and ham and bean dinner, sponsored by the Eagles Auxiliary will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 20, according to Mrs. Phyllis Saka, chairman.

Cost of the dinners has been set at $1.50 for adults and $1 for children with carry-out orders available, the chairman reports.

Both exhibits will include a variety hand craft items, homemade preserves, home canned fruits and vegetables, books, jewelry Christmas items, white elephant gifts, plants and bakery goods.

All proceeds from the project will be used for the charitable programs of the organization, Mrs. Saka added.

FIRST-PLACE TROPHY is displayed by Larry Wyatt, left, and Jim Eltimoff, who won it in the open debate division at the Parkway Central Debate tournament in which 34 teams participated. The two are students at Granite City High School South. South varsity debaters Brian Konzen and Patrick House were quarter-finalists in the varsity division. Several South debate trophies are in the background.

Club plans St. Louis tour

Arrangements were finalized to tour the Eugene Field House in St. Louis on Dec. 11 by members of the Patchworkers 4-H Club at a meeting held last week at St. Elizabeth school cafeteria.

Amy Hartman, tours and speakers chairman, led the discussion and announced the house will be decorated in a yuletide theme with reference to many children poems he had written.

Pledges were led by Lynda Loftus and Karen Fuller with 21 members answering roll call. President Wendy McIlvoy conducted the session and reported on the Halloween party held Oct. 28 at the Edwardsville Home Extension Office, attended by 20 girls. Those winning prizes for costumes depicting the "most Halloween" was Amy Patterson, "most Bicentennial" was Janet Jachino and "most scared" Sue Burnett.

The club will attend the annual achievement awards night in Edwardsville this Friday, it was announced.

Christie Kessler was appointed to serve as chairman with committee members, Lynda Loftus, Winona Cox, Amy Hartman, Mickey Loftus and Ann Fuller for the club's Christmas party.

The club's by-laws were read to acquaint the new members with the current programs.

Demonstrations were given by Debbie Burnett on "How to Take Care of Your Gerbil," Sue Burnett on "Indoor Plants," Winona Cox on "How to Make Hook Rugs," Wendy McIlvoy on "Making Eggnog" and Magd Loftus gave a talk on "Art Media."

Refreshments were served by Lynda and Mickey Loftus and Debbie and Sue Burnett. Games were conducted by Karen Toussaint, recreation chairman.

Other girls present were Circle hears Mrs. Campbell

A program on "What to Do When Nervous or Tired" written by Norman V. Peale, was given with appropriate scripture verses by Mrs. Pearl P. Campbell at a meeting of the Honor Circle of Niederrhous United Methodist Church.

Circle leader Mrs. Lucy Wesover gave a report on church members who are ill and reviewed events discussed at an executive committee meeting at the church.

She reminded the members of the annual church bazaar scheduled for Friday, Nov. 19 which will include luncheon and dinner, and is open to the public.

Current programs sponsored by the Quad-City Church Women Union were also discussed during the business session.

Members met at the church during the morning for a quilting workshop followed by a dessert luncheon served by Mrs. Clara Wadlow.

Others present were Mesdames Mildred Cundiff, Eva Evans, Edith Ehlert, Beulah Fox and Winifred Reimers.

Carolers to tour downtown area

Practice sessions are being conducted each evening by members of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society in preparation for the Christmas season when the group will tour the area singing holiday songs accompanied by several members playing musical instruments and ringing sleigh bells, according to the co-chairmen Mrs. Rogers Mefford and Larry Christian. The chairmen announced emphasis will be placed on conventional Christmas carols and members and their families are invited to participate in the musical event set for Dec. 13, 15 and 17.

Local churches and organizations are being contacted for names of elderly people and shut-ins who would enjoy hearing the carolers.

Final plans will be completed at the monthly meeting of the DNRS on Friday when a volunteer committee will be formed to serve refreshments to the carolers after each song session.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack French will host the meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in their home, 2250 Cleveland Blvd. They extend an invitation to any person interested in the DNRS and its programs.

Niedringhaus school candy sale at $5.757

Pupils of Niedringhaus School sold $5,757 worth of candy during the school's PTA candy sale, it was reported this week. Proceeds of the sale will be used to buy playground equipment and other items for the school.

Prize money of $337 to students placing at top salesmen was awarded during an assembly at the school Friday.

Top salesmen and prize winners were Shelly Boaz, first; Donita Boaz and Ron Barrios, tied for second; Todd Miller, third, and Larry Schuman, Zachary Starnes and Donna Swann, fourth.

MRS. EDITH YOUNG ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Edith Young, 2307 Kirkpatrick Homes, was hostess to the We Four Club, last week. She served an evening dinner followed by card games. Prizes were won by Mrs. Della Hagen, Mrs. Caroline Lux and the hostess. Also present was Mrs. Emma Gobbie.

Mrs. Lux invited the group to meet in her home, 2209 Kirkpatrick Homes on Dec. 3.

58'ers plan holiday events

The 58ers 4-H Club welcomed special guests Miss Jan Mueller, Associate Home Extension Adviser of Madison County, Miss Janet Bunselmeier, a former club member, and Mrs. Harriet Bunselmeier, former club leader, at the November meeting held at St. John's United Church of Christ.

Pledges were led by Gina Graham and Camie Mercer and 25 members answered roll call with their favorite song title. Birthday greetings were sung to Sue Basarich and Mary Ruth. Other guests in attendance included Mrs. Joyce Lance, Mrs. Janet Goeller, Mrs. Anita Graham and Mrs. Donna Lane.

During the business session Dina Long reported the club bake sale will be held Nov. 6 at Kroger's Store and reminded members of their work time. President Janet Scannell called on the Halloween party committee and thanked them for a successful event. The Christmas party and caroling will be held on Monday, Dec. 13, with caroling to begin at 6:30 it was noted.

Penny Strum, chairman, Nancy Dimitroff and Dina Lane will be in charge of refreshments and collecting cookies for the nursing home and Sue Basarich and Dina Long will be in charge of the recreation and baby shower arrangements.

Members were urged to attend the Madison County Achievement Night which will be held on Friday in Edwardsville. Mothers who will be available to drive should contact either Mrs. Marsha Bushue or Mrs. Joanna Spencer, club leaders.

A special career program was given by Karen Spencer who in turn called on the two guests, Miss Mueller, and Miss Bunselmeier, to discuss how their present occupations were related to 4-H projects in which they were enrolled when 4-H members. Miss Mueller described the duties of a home economist and Miss Bunselmeier described the educational requirements and job responsibilities she has as an assistant buyer in men's furnishings related to her career in fashion merchandising.

Project talks were given by Beth Goeller on "Good Manners", Dina Lane, "Be Clean", Camie Mercer, "Serving the Foods You Bake", Gina Lane, "How You Measure Is Important", Christina Bailey, "Cooking Times and Temperatures" and Patty Basarich, "History of Ceramics."

Recreation was conducted by Tracey Johnson and Dina Long and refreshments served by Gina Lane, Camie Mercer and Christina Bailey.

Members and mothers attending the County Achievement on Nov. 12 should of St. John's Church at 6:45 p.m. Members are to complete their baby layette item prior to the Christmas party on Dec. 13. Next meeting will be held on Dec. 2 at 7 p.m. at St. John's Church, it was announced.

Other members present were Kelly Ault, Cindy Buente, Shannon Bushue, Nita Graham, Lisa Griffey, Laura Jenness, Michelle Jenness, Gloria Millan, Loretta Paschedag, Ellen Range and Lisa Scannell.

Theta Theta to host parties

A couples skating party to be held on Saturday, Nov. 13, was the main topic of discussion at a meeting of Theta Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, on Thursday night, hosted by Mrs. Barbara Mihalich, 3410 Terrace Lane.

The meeting opened with a surprise baby shower given for Mrs. Jane Yates.

President Mrs. Ellen Brokaw said the next meeting on Nov. 18 will be conducted, following a visit to the Minerva Club-Hobby Auction, at St. Elizabeth Church hall.

Mrs. Jane Yates reported on the sorority City Council meeting and on the planned inter-chapter party set for Monday, Nov. 20 at St. John's United Church of Christ.

Another chapter event will be attending the Beach Society Candelight concert at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 5 at Powell Symphony Hall, according to Mrs. Martha Gianakos.

Mrs. Sharon Taylor reviewed plans for a Christmas party to be given for the area underprivileged children on Saturday, Dec. 4, at St. John's Church.

Others attending were Cindy Blumenstock, Sandy Dumoulin, Linda Givens, Jane Jackstadt, Mary Morgan, Debbie Parmley, Judy Reidelberger, Debbie Seebold, Phyllis Taylor, Linda Yates and Joyce Sullivan.

Funds allocated to plan education TV transmitting facility

Planning funds for the Southwestern Illinois Public Television Corporation were allocated Tuesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) in a meeting at Illinois Central College, East Peoria.

The IBHE authorized an allocation of $10,000, contingent on official incorporation of Southwestern, a proposed regional not-for-profit consortium for the delivery of educational television in Southwestern Illinois through the facilities of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The corporation would utilize Channel 18, which has been reserved by the Federal Communications Commission for educational use in the area for a number of years.

John A. Regnell, chairman of the department of mass communications of the School of Fine Arts and Communications and director of Broadcasting Services at SIUE, said the planning money will provide funds for consultation services in preparing a construction permit for transmitting facilities and an application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for federal matching funds.

According to the IBHE, the funds also will be used to continue a study of educational television needs in the area and for planning or programming. In October 1975, the IBHE approved the concept of regional not-for-profit consortia for the delivery of educational television.

The consortia are to include public and private elementary and secondary schools, as well as public and private institutions of higher education. In addition to Southwestern Illinois, consortia are designated for two other areas of the state: metropolitan Chicago and West Central Illinois.

In other action Tuesday, the IBHE allocated operating funds to the other consortia, which have been incorporated.

The allocations are: $40,000 to the Chicago Metropolitan Higher Education Council and $50,000 to the West Central Illinois Educational Telecommunications Corp. The consortia funds were appropriated to the IBHE for fiscal year 1977 under provisions of the Higher Educational Cooperation Act. Regnell said official incorporation of the Southwestern Illinois consortium will be sought in the near future. Plans for the consortium have been in the development stage since the concept was approved by the SIU Board of Trustees in May. The Illinois General Assembly this year approved legislation appropriating $1.5 million for SIUE television transmitting facilities, but the legislation was vetoed by Gov. Daniel Walker on the basis that University praised for interest in sr. citizens

Two certificates of appreciation were awarded to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this week by the Senior Citizens Services in Edwardsville. Peter Vogt, director of SCS, and Norma Price, coordinator of Meals on Wheels, presented the awards to SIUE Acting President Ralph W. Ruffner, William G. Crabli, manager of University Food Services, and Anthony Traxler, director of the SIUE Gerontology Program. Vogt said the awards were given to SIUE because of "the many segments of university activity where there has been close cooperation and significant support of the objectives of senior citizens." Vogt said many people connected with the university have helped the Edwardsville center, including the Committee on Gerontology, the School of Social Sciences, the Human Services Program, the Community Involvement Project and Student Activities. "The university provides an interchange of ideas with us," Vogt said. "We have received support for our programs, as well as guidance on continuing education, leadership on education programs and assistance from SIUE." Vogt noted that a "give-and-take relationship" exists between the center and SIUE. "SIUE graduate students taking gerontology classes utilize the center for special projects and for their practicum in gerontology." Four gerontology classes at the graduate level are now being taught at SIUE for students interested in working with older Americans. One of the classes requires students to work either directly or indirectly with the elderly in some professional capacity, according to Traxler. In October, over 1,000 hours of volunteer service from 104 area volunteers were given to the center. "Wives of university professors and members of the

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Nov. 11, 1976 Page 22
SIUE faculty and staff contribute numerous volunteer hours to the work of the center," Vogt said. "Dr. William Tudor is advisor to the center's board of directors. Mrs. Kay Kehall, the wife of an SIUE professor, and Tony Traxler and Rudy Wilson, assistant professor in education, all serve on the board." Every fall and spring, SIUE hosts the Senior Citizens Fair for this region. This fall, more than 1,200 attended the fair.

Nameoki proposes new Cloverleaf water main

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night requested the township's Community Development Committee to consider funding all or part of a larger water main for the Cloverleaf Addition southeast of Madison in the upcoming Community Development grant budget. It was estimated by the Interurban Water Co. that an eight-inch water line, sufficient for fire hydrants in that subdivision, would cost $78,925 to install, since 2,355 feet of underground water line would be required from the nearest water hookup in the Maers Industrial Park in Madison.

New budgets for allocations from the county's community development grant to the townships now are being prepared and Nameoki Town Auditor Norman Heasler suggested the township's Community Development Committee consider funding the improvement.

Applications were distributed during a public meeting Tuesday night in Edwardsville for the third year of the Community Development program. The board read a letter to prospective bidders for uniforms, leather goods and other items needed for the State Park Auxiliary Police Unit and agreed to open bids Nov. 22.

The board also agreed to a $144 addition to the cost of a police car being purchased from Bo Beuckman Ford, Collinsville, for a Nameoki Auxiliary Police unit to patrol Nameoki Township precincts 3, 5 and 11.

The addition will allow four-wheel disc-brakes to be put on the new police car. The total will be $4,556.

The auxiliary units consist of volunteers, trained by the Madison County Sheriff's Department, who have police powers to aid deputies. Volunteers for both the Nameoki and State Park units are completing training and are expected to begin patrolling in the next few weeks.

In order to avoid conflicts which could arise from using federal revenue sharing funds on a project without competitive bidding, the board agreed to prepare the ordinances to transfer $4,200 from the town fund to the health fund to pay half the cost of cleaning and repairing storm-water sewers at the end of Ivy Lane.

'Lepto' found in some herds

By STAN HENDERSON Agricultural Adviser
Is "lepto" prevalent in herds in your area? Is your calf crop particularly valuable? Is the drainage through your farm or pasture common to many neighboring cattle operations? If the answer to any of these questions is yes, you should plan a preventive management program with your veterinarian.

According to Dr. Donald Spencer, veterinarian of Troy, leptospirosis must often occur when animals are exposed to wet, damp areas. Several cases in Madison County have been reported in low areas near Highland and clinical cases occurred most frequently in dairy cattle.

While vaccination alone can be less than perfect; vaccination coupled with preventive management is a highly effective combination. Such management includes controlling rats, fencing cattle from potentially contaminated streams and ponds, keeping swine and cattle separated, and selecting replacement stock only from herds which have passed blood tests for leptospirosis.

A revised edition of the "Beef Housing and Equipment Handbook" has been published by the Midwest Plan Service. The publication contains 84 pages of information on planning beef facilities and do-it-yourself equipment plans. This book has major sections on: planning procedures, cattle feeding facilities, cow-calf facilities, manure handling, ventilation, utilities, animal handling facilities, feed storage and handling, and bunk design. Complete construction drawings are included for feeding, handling, and fencing equipment.

The cost of this revised handbook is $2.50. It can be purchased at the Madison County Extension office.

De Merle to conduct free drum clinic

Les De Merle, a widely acclaimed drummer currently appearing with the Harry James Band in St. Louis, will direct a free drum clinic at 5 p.m. Tuesday at John Fornaszewski Drum Shop, 3009 Nameoki Road.

All drummers and others interested in hearing De Merle and learning more about his technique are invited to attend the clinic. Fornaszewski said, "Presently performing with the Harry James Band at the Barn Dinner Theater, St. Louis County, De Merle's success record started in 1962 at age 16 when he went to work for the legendary Lionel Hampton Band.

De Merle's own group is Transfusion, an eight-member band.

Critics say of Transfusion's music that it goes beyond the jazz-rock fusion to "stake out a territory of its own, with some of the infectious jazz and some of the guttural of rock."

"This is scored and conducted music," another critic said, "suggesting that Transfusion is breaking through the wall into that realm of permanence which is loftily known as 'classical.'"

"This is concert music needing a hall to stretch in," Leonard Brown, music reviewer of the Los Angeles Free Press, stated. "When the number (a De Merle drum solo) howled to a halt, I was stunned."

He is probably going to be the greatest drummer in the world someday—maybe next week."

The Cellar Theater and Music Workshop in Los Angeles is now home base for the bulk of Les De Merle's flow of activities.

New Music Communications, a production company recently formed by De Merle, is housed in the same building to handle the administrative chores of his enterprises, such as publishing, concert promotion, business affairs and public relations.

A creative music workshop, an oasis for percussive artists in the Los Angeles area and students, together with a massive record library, centered around percussion recordings, and a 100-seat theater for experimental plays and musical events also are in De Merle's new business headquarters.

De Merle has been composing and arranging music professionally since the scores he produced for his first jazz-rock group, Sound '67, then later for a 13-piece band on his award winning album, "Spectrum," recorded by United Artists.

Fornaszewski said that De Merle expanded his creative ability to the new explosive writing he originates for Transfusion, and has now produced in written form a 60-page drum book for advanced drummers.

He started the book project three years ago by assembling materials for a series of drum studies, the local musician said.

Featured in Volume One is De Merle's own concepts in merging jazz and rock rhythms.

DRUMMER LES DE MERLE, an inventive composer and director currently appearing with the Harry James Band in St. Louis, will conduct a free drum clinic at 5 p.m. Tuesday at John Fornaszewski Drum Shop, 3009 Nameoki Road. The public and all interested musicians are invited to attend. The band's rhythm section will accompany De Merle here.

MHS Secretaries install

There were over 100 parents, friends and former Future Secretaries Association members gathered in the cafeteria of the Madison High School, last week, to witness the installation of 28 new junior and senior business secretarial students into the Madison High School Future Secretaries Association. The chapter now has a total membership of 35 pupils.

Membership standards to get into the organization require above average grades in a minimum of three business subjects. To remain a member in good standing, the girls must maintain their grades at a "C" level or above, and are not allowed to miss more than three meetings.

The keynote speaker was Mrs. Dorothy Shabo of First National Bank in Madison. Mrs. Shabo spoke on the importance of achieving as much knowledge as possible while still in school, and while it was readily available.

Mrs. Helen Gieszeimann spoke on behalf of Mrs. Peggy Moore, chairman, of the Madison FSA group, and welcomed the audience, following which Mrs. Charlene Vanovic, FSA Committee Chairman, addressed the gathering and told of the benefits of FSA membership to the students.

Lee Ashby, speaking for the faculty advisors, brought out the fact that Madison FSA enjoys a good reputation as a worthwhile organization and how pleased they were to have such an active FSA group at their high school. He outlined the educational meetings which are planned for this school year, and introduced the other two faculty advisors, Mrs. Beverly Imming and Mrs. Raelynn Boston.

The candlelight ceremony for the initiation of new members was performed by Tri-Cities Chapter President, Mrs. Gail Foley, assisted by Mrs. Sally Gracey, past president. FSA pins and membership cards were presented to the members by the faculty advisors, after which each girl received a long stemmed pink rose, which is the association flower, presented to her by Mrs. Moore.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Vanovic, assisted by Mrs. Moore. To lead the organization this year, the members have selected Margaret Darlene Gilliam, president; Millicent Babic, recording secretary; Joyce Harned, treasurer; Karen Wiggins and Ramona Washington, board members.

Following the installation, President Gilliam adjourned the gathering, after which refreshments were served to those present. Special recognition was paid to charter FSA members who were present, and they were also presented with a pink rose.

Last Woman's Club elect

Madison County Last Woman's Club elected Erna Knebel of Highland, as president for the ensuing year during a meeting hosted in the home of the retiring president, Thelma Ticker of Alton.

Other officers elected and later installed by Fannie Ullrich included Mary Massman of Venice-Madison as vice-president; Marie Lefler of Alton, treasurer; Thelma Ticker, chairman; Geanie Cummings of Alton, sergeant-at-arms; and Claire Gruenfelder, of Highland, secretary. Miss Dorothy Hinson of Madison, was appointed social chairman.

A 1 p.m. dinner was served by the hostess to nine members followed by a memorial service for Iva Sanderson.

The club was organized in 1939 by Margaret Taylor of Madison, and meetings are held on the Sunday before Armistice Day. Mrs. Kathryn Fellers of Granite City was the only member from the Quad-Cities who attended this year.

Jaycee-Ettes to aid men's group

Plans were made by the Granite City Jaycee-Ettes to assist the Jaycees on the Christmas shopping tour during the group's business meeting held last week. Mrs. Wanda Hill was the hostess.

Reports on various projects were presented, and the members agreed to help the Jaycees when they take underprivileged youngsters Christmas shopping in December.

A representative from Hope Clinic was the guest speaker and showed slides. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Pat Aleman, Linda Weible, Nancy Krause, Peggy Hoffman, Mariene Ross, Micky Patton, Linda Vaughn and Bobbie Hatfield.

Child hit by car

Edward L. Jones, 4, of 2222a Grand Ave., suffered a broken left leg when he walked west from between two parked cars into the street in front of his home and was struck by the northbound car of Rudy Mayberry, 2349 Grand Ave., according to official reports.

The child was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with the broken leg and abrasions to the lower left leg.

annual meeting of the District V garden clubs. "Think Fall" was this year's theme for the competition. Approximately 110 members attended the fall meeting held in the fellowship hall of the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

Cloverview hosts District meeting

Cloverview Garden Club of Granite City entertained the members and guests of District V, Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. at the annual President Council Day in the First United Presbyterian Church, 2164 Delmar Ave. Mrs. Richard Branding is president of the host club.

Mrs. Finis English, Belleville District Director called the meeting to order at 10:30 a.m. and the pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. J. N. Fitzsimmons. Cahokia and the welcoming address was given by Mrs. Donna Girard, Belleville. Mrs. Arthur Busch gave the response.

Past directors pinned with a corsage as the roll was called were: Mrs. Stephen Shea, Winstanley Club; Mrs. William Klotz, Shiloh Valley; Mrs. William Stafford, Lansdowne; Mrs. Harold E. Wolfe, St. Clair County; Mrs. J. N. Fitzsimmons, Cahokia; Mrs. H. C. Heberer, Mascoutah; Mrs. B. J. Iselhardt, Edwardsville; Mrs. Arvid Nelson, Lebanon and a special guest, State President Mrs. James Dawson, Elmhurst, Ill. who addressed the assembly of 110 women.

Announcement was made of the winners who entered arrangements and Mrs. Richard Branding was awarded a blue ribbon in the artistic division "Think Fall" using all dried material with an accessory. Other clubs receiving ribbons in the same category were: Lakeview, red; St. Clair County, yellow and Winstanley, white. In the same class without accessories: Collinsville, blue; Mascoutah, red; Lebanon, yellow and Shiloh Valley, white. In the class "Candlelight" a blue ribbon went to Cahokia club and Holiday Shores club received a red ribbon. In the horticulture division Mrs. J. W. Himmelright also of Cloverview won three blue ribbons on a display of African violets. Mrs. Wilmer Winter, Garden Study Club won four blue ribbons for her houseplant entries.

During the business meeting Mrs. John Jenkins, Cloverview Club was named as a member at-large to serve on the nominating committee. Serving on the board from Granite City are: Mrs. Albert Malottki, recording secretary and Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, National Gardener chairman. Mrs. Earl Glenn is World Gardening state chairman.

A buffet luncheon was served at noon by members of the Navigator's Club of the church. The invocation was given by Mrs. Harold Wolfe, Belleville and special tribute was paid to the presidents representing the 14 clubs of District V. The colorful table decorations in keeping with the fall season were small pumpkins filled with pom poms and ivy, and the favors at each place were Victorian quilted flower plaques in various colors made by the host club.

Program chairman, Mrs. Earl Baker introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. John O'Brien, as a master judge, a talented flower arranger. She is a member of the St. Louis Beautification Advisory Board and is active in project Greenback, a program that began on Arbor Day in 1972 to replant and restore trees to the city area. As a member of the East Central District Board she is civic chairman to the Japanese Garden in Shaw's Garden and is president of Ikebana International Chapter in St. Louis which supports the Japanese garden.

Mrs. O'Brien has designed and set up exhibits for her district at the Missouri State Fair and at the Christ Church

Wilson School open house set Nov. 16

Wilson School PTA executive board members made plans to hold open house at the school on Nov. 16 from 7 to 8 p.m. and to sponsor a bake during the evening.

They met at the school last week with President Mrs. Dorothy Baker in charge. She announced parents will be visiting classrooms and the membership chairman will be present to register parents. The unit now has 202 members and the current drive will close on Nov. 19. Prizes will be awarded to the rooms who show top parent membership it was noted.

Mrs. Nancy Nemeth was named to serve on PTA area council delegate.

Others present were Diane Detwiler, Mary Martinez, Olivia Parrish, Diane Morland, Carla Burns, Barbara Moniz, Phyllis Geske and Ted Vrenick, principal.

Outlines aims of Rotary at joint meeting here

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The aims of Rotary International were presented Tuesday noon at the YMCA to a joint meeting of the Granite City and Madison-Venice Rotary Club by Edul C. Eduljee of Nagpur, India.

"We must remember that Rotary is founded on fellowship and service and as our founder, Paul Harris, said 'If we can't move forward we die,' and Rotary service is moving forward in the 151 countries Rotary International (RI) is in," Eduljee said.

The speaker noted that in the 1977-78 Rotary program year, $7 million will be spent by Rotary International on graduate and undergraduate scholarships, technical training and youth exchange programs.

"The youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow. Working with youth, I have found them to be a source of inspiration and joy."

"Material progress is not everything. The great crimes in the world have been committed by our most civilized peoples. Mental slums are most dangerous."

"I trust you all will support the Rotary Foundation and become Paul Harris Fellows or sustaining members as our youth learn not to be second best. Here in the United States the Rotary Foundation gifts are tax deductible and this is the only country where it is so," the speaker said.

"There is much satisfaction of the soul gained and friendships made throughout the world due to Rotary and I am very pleased to meet here with so many fine men," Eduljee said.

The speaker is a charter member of the Rotary Club of Nagpur, organized in 1944. He served as president of his club and has served as Rotary International district governor, a director of RI and was treasurer of Rotary International from 1974-75.

He was introduced by Past Governor Kenneth L. Evers, a member of the Granite City club.

Members of the club were reminded that on Friday, Dec. 10, the Granite City club will ring bells for the Salvation Army.

The members also were reminded that every member is expected to sell at least five copies of book "Old Six Mile," an early history of Granite City.

$670 burglary

Items valued at about $670 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Clifford Parks, 323 Wilson Park Drive, between 1 p.m. and 4:28 p.m. Monday. A west basement window was removed to gain entry.

All the rooms were ransacked and the burglars opened the rear door, leaving it open.

Stolen were an $80 coin collection, a $20 camera, a $12 pocket camera, a $300 wedding ring set, two gold wedding bands worth $80, two Granite City High School class rings worth $60, a $25 mother's ring, a $40 man's ring, a $30 boy's archery set and four arrows and a child's bank and coins.

Rotary President Steve Bristol announced that Tuesday, Dec. 14, will be the date of the annual Christmas lunch, with the wives invited and a special program scheduled.

AUTOMOTIVE OPEN HOUSE. Granite City Dodge officially opened its new and used car satellite facilities during the weekend at an open house marking the initial phase of a multi-million-dollar automotive shopping and service center at 3653 Nameoki Road. The building is at the right. William "Bill" Wimmer, manager, and Miss Melanie Asadorian, 1976 Madison County Fair queen, participated in the ceremonies and greeted 500 persons who visited on the opening day.

Nutrition featured at pre-natal class

Jacqueline Haug, PNP (pediatric nurse practitioner), spoke on reasons for, eligibility for and entry into the WIC (Women, Infants and Children) program before a group of persons in a pre-natal class at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

WIC is a special supplemental food program designed to promote and provide nutrition for the pregnant and lactating woman, infants and children.

In the WIC program, emphasis is placed on the nutritional aspect, Mrs. Haug noted because of its importance in physical and mental development. WIC is federally funded through the United States Department of Agriculture, she said.

The Primary Care Children's Clinic at St. Elizabeth's — where Mrs. Haug is stationed — handles the medical certification needed for admittance to the WIC program, which is sponsored by Coordinated Youth, Mrs. Haug explained. As a pediatric nurse practitioner, Mrs. Haug is qualified to make the medical certification.

She explained that a PNP is a registered nurse who has taken additional training preparing her to specialize in care of children. A PNP performs many health-care tasks formerly performed only by a physician, she noted.

WIC began on Sept. 1. Since then the program has had 562 applicants, which shows the need for the program in this area, Mrs. Haug said.

For more information on the WIC program Quad-Cityans may call the Primary Care Children's Clinic at 877-5317 or Coordinated Youth at 876-2385.

Advisory group to hear Crime Blocker plans

The next meeting of the Venice Title I and Title VII Districtwide Advisory Council will be held Friday at 10:20 a.m. in the school library, according to Mrs. Verla Arnold and Mrs. Charlotte Dilday.

The program will be presented by the Venice Police Department with emphasis on the Crime Blocker Program. It is designed to alert people to ways to work together in their neighborhoods and to observe suspicious incidents.

There also will be a discussion of the program progress reports for the first quarter of 1976-77 and a needs assessment for next year.

Oasis is open during appeal

Norma Bosworth, operator of the Oasis tavern, (formerly known as Norma's Tavern), 1301 Madison Ave., Madison, has reopened during an appeal of Mayor Mike Sasyk's license revocation order.

Leon Scroggins, attorney for Mrs. Bosworth, reported Tuesday he has requested a rehearing of the case by the Illinois State Liquor Control Commission which recently upheld the mayor's order. If the commission fails to grant a rehearing, the case then will be taken to the courts, according to Scroggins.

Sasyk ordered Norma's taverns closed after a fatal cutting near the tavern on May 11 this year.

The tavern may remain open during appeal proceedings.

off 12 of his 33 employees, and County Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas would have his staff halved from 12 to six, if the proposed budget is adopted.

Three employees would be terminated in each of the Building and Zoning Department and the Environmental Control Department, both of which are controlled by Administrator Paul Hawkins.

A cut of three employees is recommended in the circuit court payroll; 10 employees would be removed from the County Nursing Home's staff of 70; eight would be removed from the Shelter Care Home's staff of 19; four would be cut from the 70 in the sheriff's office; two of 12 at the Madison County Jail would be terminated, and other offices would lose one employee, if the budget is approved.

Decreases of one person are envisioned for the staffs of County Auditor John W. (now three employees), the Parks and Recreation Department (now 10 employees), and the Building and Lands Department (now 14 employees).

Some officials are predicting the cuts would endanger continuing operations at the County Nursing Home, which already has reduced 20 employees in the past year, and would slow or curtail most other county services.

The proposed $7.6 million budget—trimmed $2.5 million from spending—would cut 27 department heads and others—only the recommendation, at this point, of the county board's finance committee.

The committee contends, however, that the budget is "realistic" in view of the fact the county is at its legal tax limit of 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Opponents of the tentative budget have pointed out that the document increases from $126,000 to $138,000 the per diem pay available to County Board members for attending board and committee meetings.

County members already have drawn more than their current year budget of $126,000 for per diem payments.

Auditor Kravynak said he expected general fund revenues of $7,725,162 in the upcoming year, but about $1 million will be consumed by raises and increased fringe benefits granted employees last year, and another $200,000 must be used to cover an anticipated deficit at the end of this year.

The differences between last year's budget and this year's budget also are spotlighted by the fact this year's staff would have $2 million less to work with in the upcoming year than we did this year," one official added.

Kravynak, who has been warning the county board against overspending all year, said he had very little to do with preparing the budget this year, other than anticipating revenues for the finance committee.

"This budget is their product. In the past, I have helped prepare the budget, but this year the finance committee did it," Kravynak commented.

The county board has 15 days from Tuesday's posting of the budget proposal in which to make changes in it. The proposed budget is expected to be the major item of discussion at the Nov. 24 County Board meeting.

Due to the winding path of the chase, police were unable to locate either vehicle, even though Stack attempted to keep in touch by radio with the police dispatcher. Since police cars do not have the same frequency radios as the Sheriff's department, officers were unable to communicate directly with Stack during the chase and had to rely on Dispatcher Tim Lyle to relay the locations as the chase proceeded.

Stack said when the car turned right on Slough Road, he realized he was leaving the city limits and decided to discontinue the chase. Madison County sheriff's deputies were notified and found the car abandoned along Route 2 at Lola Street near West Chair of Rocks Road.

Police said they are seeking the owner of the car for questioning.

Seek $360,000 for bridge repair work

The Venice City Council approved Tuesday night a building permit for repair work on the east approach of McKinley Bridge as part of an application for a $360,000 Economic Development Administration (EDA) grant.

The council expects to be notified of the acceptance or rejection of the grant within the next 30 days.

If approved, $40,000 from community development monies and $100,000 from the bridge repair fund will be used and work on the bridge could begin in January.

The joint annual conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards, Illinois Association of School Administrators, and the Illinois Association of School Business Officials will convene at the Palmer House in Chicago on Nov. 20, 21, 22. More than 7,000 participants will represent Illinois' 1,000 school districts.

Guest speakers during the three-day conference will include James W. Guthrie, associate professor of education at the University of California; James E. Olson, president of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.; Joseph M. Crenin, Illinois superintendent of education; George Herman, CBS TV and radio news correspondent.

The Illinois school board members, administrators and business officials will participate in panel discussions, covering such topics as resources, alternative education programs, strikes, school board ethics, student rights, local control and the state, collective bargaining, value analysis, citizens' committees.

In addition to the panels, business meetings and roundtable discussions will be held throughout the three days. School officials also will have an opportunity to examine almost 100 exhibits of the latest school equipment, supplies and services.

Crime blockers number 400

Over 400 people ranging in age from 14 to 90 years have been trained as Crime Blockers in the Quad-Cities, according to area authorities.

The two-hour crime prevention training program held at Prather Junior High School Tuesday by Granite City Police Officer Glenn Wright, with 22 persons attending.

Officer Wright said that the police are averaging "one good call" a day from a crime blocker and this has resulted in both the prevention of crime and the apprehension of felons.

The training, which is open to the public, will be conducted again Monday, Nov. 22, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. at Coolidge Junior High School.

The Granite City and Madison-Venice Rotary clubs are sponsoring the program. George Moore of Granite City and John Richard Hooks of Madison are co-chairmen of the project.

Church groups, senior citizens or civic clubs wishing to participate by taking the training and becoming official Crime Blockers are asked to contact their local police department to make arrangements.

WOMAN ASSAULTED

An East St. Louis woman staying at the Illini Motel, 1100 N. Dearborn Ave., reported during the weekend that while she was asleep, a man she did not know entered her room. He took her with his fist when she refused his advances, and then raped her. She was given hospital treatment.

Routes, schedules among transit objections here

A need for a better system to determine when and where passengers can board buses was expressed during a public workshop on mass transit hosted Wednesday night at the YMCA by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's Transit Action Committee.

A spokesman for the committee commented the turnout was disappointing as only four

Study land, water plans

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Regional Government Issues Committee met Tuesday, with Leo Kozens, chairman, reviewing the land use planning program of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

Of eight scheduled water-related position papers, two have been issued to date—one on septic tanks, suggesting there is not enough control or inspection, and another on stormwater runoff, which Runoff water in rural areas is somewhat filtered by grass and shrubs before it enters streams, but city runoff water is polluted and must be treated, a discussion showed.

Probably there is a need for retention ponds, after which pumps must be installed to pump water to the treatment plant, it was noted.

Six more position papers will be issued, and the committee agreed that it will advise SIMARPC that it would not forget the cleaning effect that rivers and other large streams have—a degree of ability to clean themselves as they flow.

The committee will keep the Chamber board up-to-date on land use and water quality planning for this area and will encourage suggestions to SIMARPC.

As new position papers are issued, each will be studied by the committee.

Dedicate

The youth choir, directed by Capt. Cathy Tompkins, wife of Capt. Michael Tompkins, will entertain during the dedication.

Refreshments will be served and there will be tours of the building following the dedication.

Initially used in June, the new center has facilities for community recreation, counseling, religious services, senior citizen activities, children's programs, athletics, welfare conferences and social services.

Quad-City area residents joined the officials from the committee.

Carl Mathias, service area manager for Illinois Power Co. and a member of the Gateway Transit Action Committee, chaired the workshop.

Officials present included Don Clay, director of community coordination, mass transit, for East-West Gateway, and Dick Brown, deputy project manager for the study's consulting firm.

The workshop here was one of 10 conducted by the committee. Input from the workshops, a telephone survey and personal interviews will be used in formulating a recommended plan for improving mass transit in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Among the possible improvements explained at the workshop here were a "Dial-a-Bus" system in which buses are summoned like taxicabs, and a "grid system" routing which would transfer riders from all areas of a city to through bus routes.

Objections expressed here included difficulty in reaching Bi-State Transit's information telephone number to find out about routes and schedules, and one resident said the buses to St. Louis did not stop close to her destination.

Another series of workshops is planned for late winter to review a detailed analysis of possible transit improvements.

A third series is to be held in late spring, to present and discuss a 1985 mass transit plan for the region. The final report will be submitted to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council after the final series of workshops.

Chamber group urges leaders visit schools

A suggestion that local area business and industrial leaders arrange a visit to Quad-City high schools so that they may become better acquainted with the school system was advanced by the Education Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce in a meeting last week.

The proposal followed discussion of the Business-Industrial-Education Day program in which approximately 900 teachers visited area industrial plants on Oct. 27, and then met at High School South to hear Robert McBride, president of Granite City Steel, speak on the committee enterprise system.

Committee members agreed that the BIE program was highly successful and agreed that a visit to the schools by industrial and business leaders would better acquaint them with operation of the school system.

"As we hope the teachers become better acquainted with the committee enterprise system during BIE Day," a committee spokesman said.

The committee, headed by Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., also discussed declining school attendance, noting that many families who work in the Quad-Cities have moved to the eastern part of the area, resulting in mounting school attendance in the eastern part of the county while that in the Quad-Cities continues to drop.

Committee members agreed to adopt a resolution supporting the Belleville Area Local extension courses. The committee was told that enrollment at BAC remains constant, with extension courses at about the same level as last year and college credit classes showing some increase.

Funds available to groups assisting senior citizens

Any non-profit organization aiding senior citizens may apply by tomorrow to the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging for a portion of $13,804 in unappropriated Title Three funds which are to be allocated in the near future.

Senior citizens' clubs or other groups aiding the elderly may submit a letter of intent to the agency for any "one-shot" small project, such as a table or chairs or other tangible items, but the letters must be in the possession of the agency by tomorrow, Nancy Silvers, agency director, noted.

Letters of intent should state the amount of money being sought, the purpose for the money, and a description of the applying group and how it aids senior citizens.

Requests for smaller amounts of funds will have more likelihood of being approved than larger requests, she added.

Formal grant applications will be required only of those groups to which grants actually will be awarded. Funds received through the program must be spent by June 30, 1977.

Letters of intent must be received by tomorrow in the office of the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, Edgemont Building, Suite 107, at 8787 State St., East St. Louis, 62203. The agency serves Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington Counties.

Mrs. Schwertmann honored

Mrs. Barbara Schwertmann was awarded a plaque in recognition of her five year service with Cub Pack 20, sponsored by Webster School PTA, at a pack meeting held last week at the school.

Cubmaster Jerry Mize Sr., made the presentation, and the opening flag ceremony was given by Terry Boser, Bobby Wilds and Danny Farley Jr. Assistant Cubmaster Jerry Decker gave bobcat awards to Richard Bradford, Walter Chrusciel and Danny Farley; Wolf badges to Steven Flisk Jr.; Webelos activity badges to Sean McGovern and Scott Ivie who received the artist, athlete, sportsman, showman and traveler.

One year pins went to Rodger Eller, Glenn Svoboda, Kenny Hare, Frank Soelner, Jerry Mize Jr., Sharon Svoboda, Martha Mize and Jerry Mize Sr.

Two year pins to Sean McGovern, Tony Sutherland, Scott Ivie, Donald Hazelwood, Keith Heiman and Judy Heiman.

Cub scouts who advanced to Webelos were Steven Flisk Jr. and Richard Bradford.

An art show which exhibited items made by the dens was shown after the meeting and judged by Mrs. Schwertmann, James Jeffries, school principal and Al St. John, school custodian.

First place awards were given to Bobby Wilds, Glenn Svoboda, Terry Boser and Tony Sutherland.

Second place honors went to Kenny Hare, Tod Koenig, Jeff Bates, Rodger Eller, Darrel Pagan, Richard Bradford, Frank Soelner, Jerry Mize Jr., Gary Williams and Richard Wise.

Brownie Troop 663 holds investiture

Brownie Troop 663, sponsored by the St. Elizabeth Aged Society, held an investiture ceremony for new scouts, last week.

The ceremony was conducted by troop leaders Mrs. Pam Ames, Mrs. Pat Niles and Mrs. Margaret Grobowski assisted by Brownie Scout Caryn Kubelka who led the new Brownies down the path of the Brownie forest to receive their Girl Scout pins. Each girl recited the Girl Scout promise and then formed a circle to sing the Promise Song and the Brownie Smile Song.

Girls participating in the ceremony were Amy Achenbach, Kimberly Ames, Tammy Ames, Tammie Colner, Kathleen Grobowski, Ann Marie Heintz, Ann Juhasz, Kim Lucido, Ann Mikell, Angela Moore, Janet Niles, Beth Sherrills, Susan Sleska and Becky Trifitsch. Ann Marie Campes, absent due to illness, will receive her pin at the next meeting.

At the conclusion of the investiture, refreshments were served by the leaders to the members and their parents and guests.

Ladies Democratic Club donates funds

The Madison Ladies Democratic Club agreed to send a donation to the Madison Mothers Club during a meeting held at the Fireman's Hall, in Madison.

Mrs. Minnie Brown presided and accepted reports from various chairmen. She announced the club's Christmas party is planned for 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 6 to take place at the sportsmans club. A buffet dinner will be served followed by a $3 gift exchange and members who bring guests are to make reservations with the club.

Refreshments were served after the meeting to 27 members.

Senior Citizen events at "Y"

The Tri-City Area YMCA will host a ham and bean dinner for the Senior Citizens, Wednesday, Nov. 17. The meal will be served between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., but all seniors are invited to socialize, play games and use all YMCA facilities between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., according to Donald Rains, program director.

Also scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 21 all senior citizens of the Tri-City area are invited to the YMCA for a sing-along. The American Association of Retired Persons band will provide the music. For more information senior citizens may contact the "Y" at 876-7200. The "Y" is a United Way Agency, Rains added.

St. Joseph's Bazaar set

St. Joseph's Sunday school teachers and mother helpers will hold their second Christmas Bazaar and Bake Sale on Sunday, Nov. 14, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the church basement.

Coffee and donuts will be available as well as various baked items. Among the many crafts offered for sale will be baked dough Christmas tree ornaments, beaded Christmas tree ornaments, fabric flowers, tissue paper flowers, egg cartons, angels, crocheted items and many others.

There will be a few varieties of plants sold, and yarn plant hangers. Among the novelty items available this year will be grab bags for boys and girls. There will also be a limited amount of good, used toys for sale, according to Mrs. Judy Bucatch.

FOUR COATS TAKEN
Four leather coats with a value totaling $600 were stolen from a rack at Schermer's Men's and Boys' shop, 10 Creasards Plaza, between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Monday.

Secretaries hear E. G. Steele

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) held its regular monthly dinner meeting last week at Charlie's Restaurant. Featured speaker for the evening was the honorable Everett G. Steele, Illinois State Representative recently re-elected to the 56th District. His topic was "The New Credit Laws for Women." Steele mentioned that women can arrange credit under their maiden name, and also that it is advisable for a woman to establish credit ratings in her own right, rather than relying on joint credit with her husband.

Following Steele's presentation, the following committee reports were given. Twila Edmonds reported on the success of "Boss Night" held at the Breckenridge Pavilion Inn on Oct. 18. The new 1976-77 revised budget was presented to the chapter by Treasurer Jane Davis. Certified Professional Secretaries (CPS) and Education Chairmen Gail Foley, CPS, conducted a short spelling quiz for all members and guests present.

Civic Committee Chairman Helen Gieszelsman announced the Tri-Cities Chapter will visit the Madison County Shelter Care Home on Sunday, Dec. 12, and that each member is requested to purchase it as a Christmas gift for a resident of the home. Charlene Vunovic, CPS, Joyce Savich and Peggy Moore, co-chairmen for the Future Secretaries Association groups reviewed FSA activities, including the FSA initiation ceremonies held at Granite City, Madison and Breese. Membership Chairman Lana Randolph, CPS, announced that anyone wishing to join the National Secretaries Association (International) after Nov. 30 would only be required to pay half-year dues. Joyce Savich, vice president and program chairman said the next month's meeting - on December 12 - would be the annual Christmas Party. Peggy Moore announced, Ways and Means projects would be the sale of candy and tote bags.

Guests present for the evening were Larry Sidener of Sidener Supply, Tri-Cities Chapter 1976 Boss of the Year; Harriett Hamilton, Ralston Purina Co. Library; Gieszelsman, Mailinckrodt Chemical Co., also a charter member of the Madison High School Future Secretaries Association; Judy Siebert Novosel, secretary to Larry Sidener, Virginia Larsen, Jennings Wright Corp., Raelynn Boston, Madison High School, Becky Batson, Irvin State attorney, Nancy Bezan, Lindsey Construction Co. and Sue Moore.

INVASION OF ISRAEL MOVIE
A movie titled "The Coming Invasion of Israel" will be shown at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave. The film deals with Biblical prophecy concerning the Middle East and the rise of Russia.

Pi Eta plans yule project

Pi Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority completed plans to make yuletide decorations and present the items to elderly members of the community as its Christmas project. The group also plan to send holiday greeting cards to the area residents.

Mrs. Wanita Graham hosted the meeting and Mrs. Judy Olesky, president, conducted the session.

A program on "Consumer Economy" listing suggestions on saving fuel and electricity was presented by Mrs. Jo Meyer, home economist at Illinois Power Co.

Those present included Jan Noland, who will host the Nov. 22 meeting; and Betty Beck, Barbara Kennerly, Jerry Turner, Charlotte Charbonnier, Sandy Ascherat, Donna Yehling and a guest Judy Campbell.

Yule bazaar, open house at Mitchell

A Christmas bazaar and country store will be featured Monday evening at the annual open house at Mitchell Grade School.

Classroom visitation will start at 7:30 and the bazaar project will commence at the same hour. The public is invited to attend.

Refreshments will be served those attending. Mitchell School's open house is part of American Education Week activities in local schools.

Sally, eldest daughter of Thomas Gillham Sr., married John Davidson in South Carolina.

Their children were Samuel, Thomas, George, William, Susannah and Sally. Samuel and Susannah did not come to Illinois.

Thomas G. married in South Carolina, and early came to Illinois with his brothers George and William and his sister Sally. His children by his first wife were Letitia, wife of Thomas Gillham Jr. and mother of S. B. Gillham of Upper Alton; Ephraim William and Dovey, widow of Alexander Bell. She later resided at Exeter, Scott County.

His first wife dying, he married Polly Stanford and settled just on top of the bluff where J. H. Kendall later resided.

Their children were Beverly A. and Clayton T., who long lived on the old homestead. Mattie, who was the first wife of Joshua Dunnagan, became the second wife of William Gillham.

Jane was the wife of Walker Delaplain, who settled, lived and died near Venice. Sinal was the wife of the late Sidney Smith and the mother of Mr. Shed B. Gillham, Mrs. W. C. Hadley and William Smith, Esq., of Collinsville.

Sopronia was the first wife of George S. Rice. Elvira was the wife of Abner Dunnagan and mother of W. H. and Miss Mattie Dunnagan of this county.

Thomas G. Davidson was one of the first justices of Madison County. William, second son of John Davidson, married Hannah Bunkhead and early came to Illinois. Their children were Isham, James, Andrew, Elizabeth, who became the wife of Thomas G. Dunnagan, and S. Milcent, second wife of J. Clark Dunnagan, both residing on the old homestead in section 1 and 2, township 4, range 9.

George, the third son of John Davidson, married Miss Jane Lusk. Susannah married a man by the name of Lusk. They did not come to Illinois. John Davidson, husband of Sally Gillham, was killed in battle in the Revolutionary War.

Susannah, youngest daughter of Thomas Gillham the first, married James Kirkpatrick in South Carolina.

After having been away from his home, in the army of the revolution for months, he obtained permission to visit his family which, on account of Toryism, he had to do by stealth.

He had been at home but a few minutes when, sitting upon his wife's knees, surrounded by his children, he was shot and killed by a Tory named Pruitt, who fired through a window.

They had five children: James, Thomas, Franklin, John and Polly. Mrs. Kirkpatrick again was married to a man by the name of Scott, and raised a son, Joseph.

She, her daughter and youngest son never came to Illinois.

Her older sons, four in number, all came to Illinois at an early day, and figure prominently in the early settlement of Madison County. Their descendants are to be found in many portions of the state in Bond, Adams, Morgan and other counties.

County clerk's election guess within 6 votes

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, who had predicted the voter turnout in the county for the Nov. 2 general election would be about 100,000, announced Tuesday that the official total of votes cast in the county actually was 100,000, only six more than she predicted.
The vote total, verified by the canvass, was a record, breaking the previous county vote record of 101,398.

The St. Louis Chapter chose its name because Holmes and Watson were bachelors and lived on Baker Street. The chapter is composed of faculty members and interested persons in the St. Louis and Illinois areas.

"It was developed through the needs and efforts of a debate society that wanted a place for its members to get together and debate all the relevant topics of the time without faculty pressures.

"In the 1880s, there was much discussion over whether or not Sherlock Holmes really existed.
We feel that this is probably one of the topics discussed at college unions at this time.

"We are now trying to add this to a contemporary period," he said. "The Society will be hosting its annual meeting at the SIUE Center, which will represent the contemporary college union."

"Sherlock Holmes Week" will be kicked off Tuesday, Nov. 16, at noon in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center. Robin Sackfield will perform some of Holmes' favorite music on harpicaps and do the Irish jig.

The film, "House of Fear," will be shown at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom on Tuesday.

Two contests, a Sherlock Holmes Look Alike Contest and a Create the Perfect Crime Contest, will be held Wednesday, Nov. 17, at noon in the Goshen Lounge. Contestants will be judged by members of the Society.

On Wednesday, the movie,
"Sherlock Holmes Faces
Death," will be shown at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom. Thursday, Nov. 18, will feature a symposium chaired by Leader of the Noble Bachelors Philip Shreffer at 1 p.m. in Goshen Lounge; topics will include: Sherlock Holmes recordings, the art of detection in the 1880s; Sherlock Holmes' scholarship and various Sherlock Holmes Societies across the country.

A film, "Adventure of Devil's Foot," will be shown Thursday at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom. At 6 p.m., a hour with tea and crumpets will be held in the International Room of the Center.

At 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, the annual fall meeting and banquet will be held in the Mississippi Room. The meal will cost $6.25 per person and will be the same type meal that would have been eaten during the late 1890s in England.

Reservations can be made by calling 692-2617 by tomorrow.
At 8:30 p.m. Nov. 18, the Sherlock Holmes film, "Study in Terror," will be shown in Meridian Ballroom.

During the Holmes week activity, memorabilia will be exhibited on the second floor of the University Center.
It will be "elementary" to attend Sherlock-Holmes Week, since all the movies and discussions will be free and open to the public.

BOAT MOTOR TAKEN
A 40-horsepower outboard boat motor was stolen from the rear of the apartment of Roger Hickman, 3239c Maryville
Road, it was discovered at 1:30 p.m. Thursday. The motor is valued at $1,600.

FIVE PRINCIPALS of the Quad-Cities area parochial schools discuss the remainder of the school calendar at their monthly meeting. From the left are Sister Bernadette of St. Mary-St. Mark, Sister Margaret Mary of St. Elizabeth, Sister Samuella of St. Joseph, Sister Karla of Sacred Heart and Sister Marie Monica of St. Margaret Mary. Also discussed at the meeting were text book loans, a religious workshop to be held in February and teacher candidates for the 1977-78 school year. The meeting was hosted by St. Joseph School.

RADIO, CAKE STOLEN

A 23-channel citizen's band radio and a birthday cake were stolen from the auto of Bruce Scott, Bunker Hill, Ill., while the car was parked at the Wilson Park ice rink. Scott, who reported the incident at 3:50 a.m. Sunday, said a rear window was smashed to gain entry and the interior was ransacked.

Special role of SIUE being cited to legislators

Illinois ranks forty-first out of the 50 states in increased appropriations for education during the past 10 years, according to Jane Altes, head of the Committee for Legislative Oversight for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Mrs. Altes is also acting assistant vice-president for academic programs at the local university.

The report says that in the two-year period spanning 1975 and 1976 fiscal years, the state of Illinois increased its appropriations to higher education by 17 per cent, "which corresponds after inflation to a real dollar increase of only one per cent."

Mrs. Altes said these appropriations place Illinois 41st among 50 states.

"In the 10 years between 1966 and 1976, Illinois increased its support for higher education by 215 per cent. However, if the effects of inflation are included, this increase drops to 17 per cent in the decade."

"Only seven states show a poorer rate of increase during the period."

"Forty-first is not an appropriate position for a state which maintains one of the highest per capita income levels in the country. This advantageous income circumstance must surely translate into support for those institutions which have contributed to this success," Mrs. Altes said.

For fiscal year 1977, the governor signed higher education operations and grants bills totaling $869.1 million for the state. This was $24 million less than appropriated by the legislature and $55 million less than recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Appropriations for SIUE operations (including retirement) equaled $32,082,900 for fiscal year 1976. Appropriation increases over the previous five-year period were designated for salary increases, new and expanded programs, operations and maintenance for buildings, retirement contributions and other purposes, which meant a reduction for basic, ongoing operations of about $10 million.

Mrs. Altes said statistics show that the average annual income of a male college graduate is at least $5,500 per year more than his counterpart with a high school degree.

"When one considers this additional earning in the light of increased buying power—leading to expanded demand for consumer goods and services and to increases in tax responsibility—the basic income differences are multiplied to the good of the state," she said.

Due to these statistics, SIUE is especially important to this region, since it has the highest percentage of families below the poverty level and the most unemployed of any metropolitan area in the state, she added.

"The special role and the special needs of SIUE can be traced to its geographic position within the state."

"It is the second most populous center in the state, a locale which can be seen as something of an economic stepchild of the larger St. Louis metropolitan area and which, by every statistical measure of prosperity, suffers by comparison."

"The priorities of the university reflect its awareness of the needs of the area and of its basically local student clientele," she said.

Mrs. Altes said she hopes to encourage local people to "get in touch with their legislators and ask for support of higher education in Illinois."

She said SIUE area legislators have been generally supportive of the university "but veto overrides are difficult to accomplish, and the wishes of voters are always important in the decisions made by the representatives and senators."

Easter Seal Society sells Yule cards

For the seventh consecutive year, the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois will offer Christmas cards to area residents on a donation basis to benefit programs of service to area handicapped children and adults.

This year the society is offering two cards, both of which are four-color reproductions of original art donated to the society by Robert Hanselman, St. Louis artist. Both cards illustrate Christmas scenes depicting Charles Dickens' "Tiny Tim."

Donations for the card averaged 20 cents each last year. Either card is available for immediate delivery and comes complete with envelopes. A sample is available by calling the society or dropping them a note at 756 Central Ave., Alton, Ill.

DISCOVERS BURGLARY

Mrs. Otto Hartman, 1412 Twenty-fifth St., returned home at 9 p.m. Sunday to find the front door of her home had been pried and broken open. She called police before entering and, accompanied by officers, she found all the rooms in the house had been searched. Known missing were a $30 clock radio, a $45 ladies' wristwatch and about $9 in change. Other items found missing are to be reported to police after an inventory.

Construction skills taught

(Third of four articles)

The apprenticeship and training programs in which the Southern Illinois Builders Association is involved are highly skilled and dependable labor force will always be available for work within the industry.

Currently, nine apprenticeship programs—operating under the auspices of Joint Apprenticeship Committees—receive technical and financial assistance from the foundation.

The Carpenters, Cement Masons, Iron Workers and Operating Engineers' apprenticeship programs are under the direct supervision of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, U.S. Department of Labor. Each of these programs combines classroom training and on-the-job experience.

An innovation in apprentice training came in 1975 with the accreditation for community college credit.

Apprentices in the Tri-County and Madison County Carpenters, Cement Masons Local 90 and Iron Workers Local 392 now can receive college credit for classroom training.

In addition to apprentice training, journeymen and laborers are offered upgrading programs to improve their skills.

Educational programs developed under the auspices of the Industry Advancement Foundation today cover a gamut of the industry—from junior high school "World of Work" programs to community college and college degree programs and management seminars.

The scholarship program was launched in April 1968, when SIBA created a scholarship fund. The fund is administered at the time of the announcement was promoting the advancement of the industry.

The success of the CMT program at that institution has led six other schools to adopt the same curriculum.

CMT courses are now offered at John A. Logan College, Carterville; Lewis and Clark College, Godfrey; Lincoln Trail College, Robinson; Rend Lake College, Mt. Vernon; Southeastern Illinois College, Harrisburg; and State Community College, East St. Louis.

Four other schools—Wabash Valley, Mt. Carmel; Central College, Olney; Kaskaskia College, Centralia; and Shawnee College, Union—participate in the program on a cooperating basis, with their students attending one of the other institutions.

No new cars in 1978?

The U.S. auto industry is considering cancellation of its 1978 model production if the new 85th Congress fails to soften engine exhaust emission control standards early next year.

The warning comes from Richard L. Terrell, vice chairman of General Motors Corp.

Government emission requirements for 1978 models are so close to zero emissions that our present catalytic converter systems simply can't meet them," says Terrell.

Consequently, as a practical matter GM and other auto makers have only one possible course of action now that Congress has adjourned without extending what the industry calls "acceptable" emission standards for new cars scheduled to go into production next summer.

"We are continuing the testing and procedures to certify our 1978 models at the state level," says Terrell, "hoping that the new Congress will be more responsive to the problem."

Both House and Senate this year passed bills which would have continued 1977 emission standards for at least another year. But in the headlong rush for adjournment, the 94th Congress failed to act on a conference report adjusting differences between the House and Senate versions.

"This dilemma is not of our making," said Terrell. "It was not the auto industry that deflected the legislation before Congress. Our industry has been urging action for years."

To meet standards now on the statute books for 1978 models will require new technology, especially for reducing oxides of nitrogen, Terrell warns. "In spite of our best efforts and the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars, we have not yet developed this technology to the extent that it could be applied to the variety of production cars the American public desires."

"We'll keep trying, but time has run out for 1978 models. For these, 1978 is the last year—unless we perfect the technology right now, it will be too late for the 1978s."

The industry believes Congress played a dirty trick on auto builders when it failed to renew 1977 emission standards before it ran for the front door.

Since both House and Senate had approved bills which would have extended 1977 emission standards into 1978, "we believe our decision to design our 1978 models to those standards conformed to the intent of Congress," Terrell says. "We made this decision in good faith and we informed Congress and its leaders on several occasions as to what we were doing."

"Environmental Protection Agency certification procedures require many months to complete. We have hand-built hundreds of prototype cars and drive them for millions of miles of testing."

"Therefore, we had to decide the final engineering specifications for our 1978 models and begin this process several weeks ago."

"The EPA cannot certify these cars and, of course, we will not build them—until Congress changes the standards."

State income tax forms to be late

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD—Those seasonal symbols, the state income tax forms, will be getting out a little later than usual this year for roughly four and a half million Illinois taxpayers.

Director Robert Alphin said the apparent "delay" isn't really a delay—the department has been unusually speedy in getting the forms to taxpayers in recent years.

However, this year the Illinois forms must wait until federal officials finalize the state's tax forms, because of changes in tax laws.

Since the Illinois tax form "piggybacks" the federal form, it is necessary to wait for the federal forms to be finalized before the state forms can be printed.

Alphin said the delay is not a problem at all. "We can't anticipate any problems at all," he said.

before the state forms can be printed.

Even with the necessity to wait for federal final decisions, the state's tax booklets are expected to go out to taxpayers in early January, before the end of December.

Federal officials have been quoted as saying they expect the federal forms to be in the hands of taxpayers by January.

"If they can get them to people by January, it obviously has to be in final form earlier than that so there should be plenty of time to check it and get out the Illinois forms," Alphin said.

bid for the printing job in several recent years.

That firm, the department's spokesman said, prints tax returns for "16 or 17 other states and a lot of federal forms," using special presses and printing techniques.

Last year, the state's income tax forms went into the mail the first week of December—an unusually early mailing because of the increase in postal rates scheduled shortly thereafter.

The early mailing saved substantial amounts in postage charges.

Having the forms in hand early also allows persons exchanging refunds adequate time to be sure they have all necessary documents to support refund claims, for needed service.

Deadline for filing returns—in case anyone has forgotten—is April 15.

Calif., for the Pacific Maritime.

So far 28 commercial vessels have been equipped with shore-to-ship terminals for ship-to-shore Marist signals.

They include oil tankers, bulk container ships, oil exploration vessels, cable-laying ships, icebreakers, passenger ships and the semi-submersible oil rig, the Ocean Ranger, in the Gulf of Alaska.

The Marist system is relatively inexpensive for commercial traffic—a minimum of $10 a minute for a telephone call, and $6 a minute for telex messages.

Marist satellites have a designed life of about five years. They are a new departure in space communications and, of course, have not yet supplanted Samuel F. B. Morse's telegraph code. But the American Institute of Merchant Shipping is taking a long look at the Marist system. Radio transmissions on the high seas, often vulnerable to severe fading and interference in bad weather, can be risky. Delays of many hours, even days, are common in seaborne radio and telegraph.

Hard choices loom ahead for new federal administration

Press-Record Washington Bureau—As is their custom after each presidential election, Americans are toying with the thought of what might have been, if only. Undoubtedly the outcome could have been different had Eugene McCarthy been favored with a few more breaks, or if President Ford had played his cards differently.

The reality is that Jimmy Carter won the presidency convincingly with more than a majority of the popular vote and with as few political obligations as any president-elect in recent memory.

His personality and character are such that he will take office on Jan. 20 with his administrative plans in high gear.

Conversely, not only President Ford, but also Republicans in general, took a drubbing. The net result of the Senate and House elections is that Democrats will continue to dominate both houses of Congress with convincing majorities, as they have for most of the last four and a half decades.

These political configurations seemingly put Mr. Carter in an enviable position. In theory, he should have no problem in implementing government reorganization, installing zero base budgeting, fighting inflation, creating more jobs, conducting foreign relations and so forth.

The most apocalyptic view is that the barrier to fiscal disaster represented by the Ford veto power has been removed and Mr. Carter will be able to proceed at will.

Fortunately, both of the polar positions are academic. Despite his clear-cut victory, Mr. Carter still stands on a narrow geographic base in the south and east.

At best, his is a mini-mandate that lacks support from over half of the 50 states.

We don't see the makings of a 63rd Congress that gave Woodrow Wilson his "New Freedom," a 73rd ENERGY? Wise Management is today's best answer.

Today America is searching for new sources of energy. At Illinois Power, we're very much involved in our country's long-range search for new energy resources.

At the same time, we're using the best technology available today to create energy sources that will be needed very soon.

And we're working on a third way to provide more energy—now! That is, the wise management of present energy sources.

We think the best way all of us can cope with the ever-rising demand for energy is to make more intelligent use of the resources we now have.

So, while we're hard at work on new resources, we're also hard at work in our customers' homes... on the farm... and with businesses large and small... helping our customers manage their use of energy.

With wise management, all of us can make energy go a long way.

FOR INFORMATION

Unit Electric Company (Venice Power Plant), Madison County, has filed with the Environmental Protection Agency and Pollution Control Board a Petition for a Variance.

Title IX of the Environmental Protection Act provides for individual variances upon proof by the Petitioner that compliance with specific provisions of the Act, related regulations and/or Board opinions would impose upon the Petitioner an "arbitrary or unreasonable hardship". The Petitioner alleges such a hardship, and requests a variance from the total suspended solids requirements of Rule 408 until December 31, 1979.

The Environmental Protection Agency solicits the views of persons who might be adversely affected by the granting of the variance. Any comments or inquiries should be addressed to: Variance Section, Division of Water Pollution Control, Springfield, Illinois 62766, (217) 782-2900.

Formal objections to the petition may be filed in writing with the Clerk of the Pollution Control Board, 309 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

Seek grant for vans for elderly and handicapped

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, in conjunction with Lewis and Clark Community College, Madison County, will hold a public meeting Monday, Nov. 22, at 7 p.m. at Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville to discuss a transportation capital grant application filed under the provisions of Illinois Revised Statutes and the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964.

The application requests four 12 to 16 passenger vans, equipped with wheelchair lifts and two-way radio equipment, to transport elderly and handicapped persons in the Quad City and the Alton-Godfrey-Wood River-East Alton area.

The application requests $61,600, $2,900 from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, United States Department of Transportation, and $58,000 from the Illinois Department of Transportation. The remaining $4,400 will be provided by Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission and its co-applicants.

Edison, Granite City, Ill. Claims against the estate may be filed in the office of the Circuit Court, Probate Division, County Courthouse in Edwardsville, Illinois, within 6 months from date of issuance of letters; and any claim not so filed is barred as to the estate inventories within that period.

Notice of claims must be mailed or delivered to the administrator and to the attorney.

Worthless checks— a growing problem

The budget-conscious housewife who has just noted a penny or two price increase in items on some supermarket shelves should blame not a greedy grocer but the person paying for a purchase with a check—which may be a phony.

That is the explanation, not of grocery store owners, but of the American Collectors Association, which has just completed a survey showing that an estimated $4 billion in bad checks are cashed in the United States each year.

The cost traced to the bad checks—a figure that is growing annually—is felt particularly by grocery stores since they cash more than 50 per cent of all consumer checks, according to Richard Lauck, president of AAA Credit Services, Inc., 1944 Delmar Ave., Two of the largest grocery chains in Chicago are believed to cash more checks than all of the banks in the city combined, he said.

"Since supermarkets operate on a net profit of about one per cent of sales, this means they must sell an additional $10,000 in goods to make up for the cost of every $100 lost on bad checks, or they must increase prices to cover these losses," Lauck said.

Lauck is a member of American Collectors Association, an international organization of more than 2,900 professional collection services that handle a growing number of bad check accounts for all types of credit grantors.

One ACA member who handled 10,200 bad checks in a recent year reported $300 were from department stores, 200 from airlines, 200 from hotels and 500 from miscellaneous sources.

The average bad check is for $39, the ACA survey showed, and federal reserve bank statistics indicate there are 135 million of them annually. This number is but a little more than one per cent of the total personal and business checks written in a year, but its impact on the economy is sizable.

"The situation is actually worse than these statistics show," Lauck said. "Some individuals and businessmen prefer to absorb the losses rather than report them, and some business people are reluctant to devote the time and effort necessary to take the case to court."

But banks, which are most aware of the extent of bad checks, report that current losses are a major problem.

Checks can be "bad" for a variety of reasons, intentional and unintentional, he noted. Of the ones which are returned as being unpayable, a certain number are written improperly through carelessness, or payment has been stopped. These matters can usually be resolved by the creditor without requiring professional collection efforts.

"In other cases, however," Lauck said, "the bad check is written intentionally as another delaying action by a debtor who is trying to avoid paying his obligations. These situations require prompt professional collection procedures to persuade such individuals to make good on their checks."

Instruction programs on measurement

"Measure-Metric," an instructional television series distributed by the Illinois Office of Education, will be telecast statewide beginning in January to help students master the metric system of measurements.

The series of twelve 15-minute programs, providing practical experiences in the use of the metric system, will be directed at students in grades four through seven.

The programs will deal with measurements of length, area, volume and mass. They are expected to reach 300,000 students this school year and 250,000 in each of the next four years.

State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin said he encourages all school districts in the state to take advantage of the new programming.

"Testing results reported to the State Board of Education show line student achievement in areas of metric education," according to Dr. Cronin.

Exposing students to this new series could help upgrade their skills appreciably.

School districts not served by stations scheduled to show the series may obtain information about the programming by contacting the Illinois Office of Education, ETV-TV Section, 100 N. 1st St., Springfield 62777.

No local area stations have arranged to show it.

Dance company in residence

A week of dance at area colleges will climax with a performance by the Raymond Johnson Dance Company at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Friday. The performance will be presented in the Communications Building theater at 8:15 p.m.

The world-famous dance company has conducted residencies this week at SIUE, the East St. Louis Performing Arts Training Center, Lewis and Clark Community College and McKendree College. This was made possible by grants from the Illinois Arts Council and Dance Touring Program and The National Endowment for the Arts.

In June 1974, the Raymond Johnson Dance Company was formed with six dancers. Since then, the group has performed across the United States and conducted dance residencies at colleges and universities throughout the nation.

During the SIUE concert, the company will perform: "Sugar Cane," choreographed by Raymond Johnson with music by Scott Joplin, and "Fieldgail," choreographed by Rudy Perez with a tape collage musical background.

After an intermission, the program will continue with dances choreographed by Johnson including: "Chamber," with music by Tschoborg; "As the World Turns Out," with music by Chopin; and "Landmark," featuring music by The Byrds, Sam the Sham and the Pharaohs, the Ohio Express and the Kingstons.

ROLLETTES CLUB FETE
The Rollettes Club honored Mrs. Helen Warfield on her birthday at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Judy Gregory, 2913 Buxton Ave.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess followed by an evening of games. Those winning prizes were Medames Jeannette Wilson, Sharon Jackson and Mary Ann Buttons. Also present was Medames Edith Wofford, Reatta Radefeld, Toni Short, Diana Wilson, Joyce Waller, Connie Tinsley and Betty Brooks. Mrs. Wofford will host the next meeting.

"Whatever their reason, their action just adds another item to the merchant's cost of doing business—costs that eventually have to be passed on to every consumer," he concluded.

Bi-State bus riders increase

By combining vast service improvements, new routes and one of the nation's lowest fare structures, the Bi-State Development Agency has achieved an eight per cent increase in weekday bus ridership, Robert J. Baer, executive director, said this week.

A system-wide passenger count conducted in September indicated that average weekday ridership is 229,000. A passenger count for a comparable period last year revealed an average weekday ridership of 221,000. "If the eight per cent increase remains constant to the end of the year, Bi-State will have a total 1976 ridership of about 66 million, far above the three per cent increase in ridership set as a goal at the beginning of this year."

Baer noted that an additional analysis of the September system count is necessary before any definitive results can be determined.

"The increases in numbers of riders appears to be closely related to improvements we have made in our existing service, plus many new routes and one of the lowest bus fare structures in the entire country," Baer said.

Baer attributed the low fare structure to the availability of the revenue from the half-cent sales tax collected in St. Louis City and County since July, 1973. Shortly after tax was levied, Bi-State lowered its basic fare from 45 cents to 25 cents.

Bi-State also reduced children's and student's fares and recently initiated a fare of 10 cents during off-peak hours for the elderly and handicapped. Off-peak hours are anytime other than 5 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. on weekdays. All other times including weekends.

The student is selected by Bradley and the scholarship is administered by the university. Bradley matches the SIBA grant, dollar for dollar, making the scholarship worth $2,000.

Fred Wuelner, Foundation chairman, said, "The Southern Illinois Builders Association recognizes the need for increased educational opportunities for young men and women in the field of construction. It is hoped that the scholarship aid will provide significant opportunities for advancement for qualified students from the Southern Illinois area."

and holidays are considered off-peak hours. In addition, to the weekday ridership, a two per cent Sunday and one per cent Saturday ridership increase also was recorded. However, it is the weekdays which produce more than 80 per cent of Bi-State's ridership, Baer noted.

"It reflects the public's awareness not only of our improved planning and marketing efforts, but public concern over our crowded highways, soaring consumption of precious fuel and adverse effects on our environment."

"Increased bus ridership can't help but have a beneficial effect in terms of cleaner air for everyone," Baer said.

Baer said that Bi-State projections for next year indicate a continued increase in the number of passengers carried.

PLEDGE INCREASE. Bill H. Terrell, second from right, general drive chairman of the fall United Way campaign, thanks the employees of the Schnucks Market, 3801 N. Meeker Road, for increasing their pledge by 300 per cent over last year's contribution. The increase was made possible by almost 95 per cent participation of the more than 70 full-time and part-time employees of the supermarket. From the left are: Roger Ledbetter, shop steward of Local 435, Retail Clerks; Mrs. Jane Harshbarger, shop steward of Local 534, Meat Cutters; Carl Bauch, store manager; Terrell; and Larry Miller, AFL-CIO community services director here.

MEETING IN ASIA. James Wade, a former Granite City resident, left, is shown with Jay Willoughby, former St. Louis resident and well-known baritone, in Seoul, Korea. Wade has been working as composer and music critic in Korea 16 years.

Old friends meet in Korea after 16 years

When former St. Louis baritone, Jay Willoughby arrived in Seoul, Korea, at the end of September as soloist on an Asian tour with the Gregg Smith Singers, he was seen from the audience by James Wade, a composer and music critic formerly of Granite City, who has lived in Korea for the past 16 years.

Willoughby and Wade were fellow students in St. Louis in the late 1950's, but the recent meeting was a mutual surprise. Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wade, 2519 Madison Ave., played for Willoughby a tape from his collection of the latter's 1958 Artist Presentation recital, accompanied by the late Dorothy Ziegler, on which Willoughby sang Ives' "Charley Rutledge," coincidentally one of the solos the baritone was assigned for the Seoul concert.

Willoughby also examined some of Wade's recent vocal compositions during their meeting.

The baritone, now a professional vocalist in New York, joined the Smith group for concerts in Manila, Singapore, Hong Kong, Taipei, Seoul and Honolulu.

The week after Willoughby's departure, Wade's Piano Concerto was premiered at the Seoul Music Festival, the only work by a non-Korean composer ever to be programmed at this event, normally devoted to local composers.

Wade was on this occasion presented an award by the sponsoring Music Association of Korea in recognition of his long service to the cause of musical development in Korea, where he was in military service in 1954.

In mid-November, Wade's second book of collected articles and stories will be published in Seoul under the title "Week Meets East." His first such volume, "One Man's Korea," appeared in 1960, and since then he has written or edited four additional books.

New suit on highway work

Attorney General William J. Scott on Monday filed a triple damage antitrust suit against 11 of the state's largest highway contracting firms accused of rigging bids in the construction of portions of Interstate Highway 90 in Cook and DuPage Counties.

The suit involves three highway projects with a combined contract value of $16,000,000. Actual damages before tripling would be decided by the Federal District Court in Springfield, Scott said.

The 11 new defendants were added to a pending Scott suit filed Feb. 8, 1976, against three Chicago-area highway contractors. The amended complaint was filed this week in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Illinois in Springfield.

COIN CLUB SHOW

The Land of Lincoln Coin Club will hold its monthly show and flea market Sunday, Nov. 14, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Namecki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue. Old Avon soaps and awards, coin collectors' supplies and old silver dollars will be featured.

Williams again heads GC Savings and Loan

Fred R. Williams was re-elected president of First Granite City Savings Association and David G. Knollman was re-elected vice-president during the association's 82nd annual stockholders meeting last week.

Other officers retained are Nancy Wade, treasurer, and Carol Howard, secretary. The same board of directors was retained which is comprised of Williams, Knollman, Leonard Fleishman, Paul Niebur, Milford D. Walston, Dr. Francisco Dionea and Hughes C. Blake.

Williams noted the association was founded Sept. 28, 1894 and has grown to total assets of $21,044,735, up $2,694,932 from the previous year's assets of $18,349,803.

Growth at both the downtown office, 1825 Delmar Ave., and the new branch at 1520 Johnson Road, was noted, with growth in the downtown facility exceeding expectations.

A vital interest in the future of downtown Granite City was expressed by the shareholders, who urged continued investments and financing in the downtown area.

Close cooperation with the Downtown Granite City Development Committee also was urged. Plans for the current fiscal year were reviewed, including possible expansion of the branch office, planning for construction of a new building for professional offices in conjunction with the branch office and additional computer services which may be offered at both locations.

INJURES NECK, LEG
Mrs. Edith Farnbach, 61, of 202 Granville St., Venice, was injured in an auto accident and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pain to her neck and left leg. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Shop around for nursing home

When you've thoughtfully weighed the pros and cons, and the answer comes out to be a nursing home for someone close to you, then one sensitive decision has been made. And, now you're faced with another hurdle. How do you find the best nursing home?

It is advisable to begin shopping as soon as it seems a nursing home might be needed.

That way you have a good chance of finding the home that will meet medical needs and provide a comfortable atmosphere.

Before you begin looking for a home, talk with the patient about surroundings that would be most comfortable and enjoyable. And talk with the patient's physician for a medical viewpoint too.

Most people over 65 are eligible for Medicare; under certain conditions it will cover nursing home care for a limited time. People with low incomes may qualify for Medicaid. Your district social security office has information on Medicare requirements. Your local public aid office determines eligibility for Medicaid.

Check with friends, relatives and local social service agencies for names of nursing homes in your area. Then call the homes to find out if they actually provide the kind of care needed. Also find out which homes qualify for Medicare or Medicaid if you're depending on help from either of those programs.

Next, you should arrange to visit the homes that sound suitable. If possible, go during late morning or at midday to see a meal being served. Also observe the attitudes of staff and patients, and the general appearance of the home.

During your talk with the home's administrators, find out if the specific needs such as physical therapy or special diet can be met. Be sure to find out if the home and administrators have current licenses from the state. Also be certain that the home has been inspected recently and meets federal or state codes for fire safety.

Unless all these conditions are met, it's not advised that you use the home. For more information on selecting a nursing home, Quad-Cityans may obtain a copy of the booklet, Guide to Choosing a Nursing Home. It's free from the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Of course, you have been looking for the dining room that says this is really me and, of course, it's Bassett's. Each piece is quality constructed and beautifully designed and detailed so that either family meals or gala dinners are ever so exciting. With Bassett's . . . you can say, I love my dining room . . . and even your husband will agree because it is affordable!

CHINA BASE AND HUTCH TOP

China base with 2 doors, 2 shelves, hutch top with 1 glass door, 2 glass shelves with light and wood grilles.

SPACE SAVERS THAT CAN BE YOURS AT SO LITTLE COST
 CRAFTED WITH CARE BY

Bassett . . .
 The beauty is in the making.

Make a small room seem larger with wall units from famous Bassett's. They perform tricks of all kinds to make you have the utmost in function. Study where there is a drop lid desk, show off your favorite books, display your treasured memories in the display shelves or be a perfect host using the bar unit. Mix or match the grouping, for the units are interchangeable and the shelves adjustable . . . whatever is for you. You can now select the combination that you need the most and makes you and your family happy for many years of functional enjoyment. So hurry . . . come in now for the wall systems that reflect your style . . . traditional in treatment and elegantly finished on engraved wood products, selected hardwoods and simulated wood components.

MEN'S PRE-WASHED DENIM FLARE JEANS

Our Regular 13.97—Sale Ends Sat.

$10

They're pre-washed so you won't have to break them in!
And because they're pre-washed, they have that soft, comfortable feel of old jeans the moment you put them on. Tough cotton denim, leather-like trim. Always-popular indigo blue, with new pocket styles.
